

Arabs Near Clash With U. S., Israel On Aid to Refugees

Assembly's Political Group Considers Report on Problem

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States and Israel headed today for an open clash with the Arab world over how to help the 1,500,000 Palestine Arab refugees.

The General Assembly's special political committee was to take up the annual report of the U.N. Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Arab refugees in which director John H. Davis of the United States endorsed a 13-year-old assembly decision that the estimated 1,150,000 refugees of the 1948 Arab-Israeli war should be given the choice between going home to Israel or taking compensation for the property they left there.

Saudi Arabian delegate Ahmad Shukairy planned to insist that the refugees should be given this choice. Israeli Foreign Minister Golda Meir was expected to set forth Israel's stand that it is willing to help compensate the refugees but not to take them in for fear they would endanger its security.

Disagreement forecast

Diplomatic sources said they expected trouble between the United States and the 10 Arab countries over at least two of three proposals being prepared for submission to the committee.

The United States was working on a resolution to commend American scholar Joseph E. Johnson for his Arab-Israeli mediation as a special representative for the U.N. Palestine Conciliation Commission.

The Arabs did not like Johnson's recent report, which said it must be assumed that "there will be owned by his Strathmore Woolen Palestine Arab refugees for at least a decade."

Jordan, Lebanon, Syria and the United Arab Republic, hosts to the refugees, were working on a resolution to increase the membership of the conciliation commission from three to nine and give equal representation to Communist, Western and neutral countries.

Custodian May Be Named

The United States, which now sits on the commission along with France and Turkey, is against such a troika setup.

The Arab resolution would also have the United Nations name a custodian to collect the income from Arab refugee property in Israel and use part on refugee relief. The United States is particularly opposed to this idea.

Goldfine, Aide Due in Court

Industrialist and Secretary Accused of Violating Probation

BOSTON (AP) — Industrialist Bernard Goldfine, 71, and his secretary, Mildred Paperman, 43, are scheduled to appear again in federal court today—this time to face charges of violation of probation.

Goldfine—whose gift-giving to Sherman Adams led to Adams' resignation as an assistant to then President Dwight D. Eisenhower—is serving a year at the Federal Correctional Institution at Danbury, Conn., for evading $790,000 in income taxes.

Miss Paperman was placed on three year's probation in June after pleading guilty to an indictment charging her and Goldfine with evading taxes of $304,784 by assuming that "there will be owned by his Strathmore Woolen Palestine Arab refugees for at least a decade."

Also Under Probation

Goldfine also is under five years probation on a suspended 18-month sentence on a second indictment. One condition of probation was that he identify the recipients of about $600,000 unaccounted for in his business operations.

Published reports said the industrialist has disclosed to the Justice Department some of the people who shared in the $600,000. Goldfine and Miss Paperman are charged with violating terms of probation in connection with the alleged smuggling of letters to Lee, N. J., who refused at a subcommittee session in July, 1957 to say if he had attended Communist Party meetings in 1936 to 1940. Convicted of contempt, he was sentenced to four months' imprisonment and $100 fine.

2 Bernard Silber, of New York City, also questioned in 1957. Silber said he was a member of the American Communications Association, but refused to give information about other persons in the organization. He said he had been a Communist Party member for 10 years.

George C. Sweeney said he was a brief period about 1948, but dissatisfied she had no intention of renewed membership at the time he fled. No one showed up to pick up the reservation.

Negotiations Bring No Gains, Leader Of Opposition States

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Government and opposition representatives reopened negotiations Sunday on a unity government to end the island nation's political crisis but an opposition leader said the talks "have not advanced at all."

A general strike backing demands of the National Civic Union—the largest opposition group—that President Joaquin Balaguer quit in favor of a provisional junta government entered its seventh day.

Viriato A. Fiallo, head of the civic union, cabled the Organization of American States in Washington asking the "urgent presence" of an OAS observation team because of the "extremely grave" political situation.

Demand Balaguer Quit

"A vacuum in the civil power threatens the installation of supreme military power with liquidation of all vestiges of democracy," Fiallo said.

Fiallo said after an hour-long conference with Balaguer's representatives, the civic union was adamant that Balaguer must step down before any new government could be formed.

It was learned privately that the Balaguer administration, which Thursday turned down a formula submitted by the civic union, offered some concessions.

Unofficial reports said Balaguer had suffered a light attack of hepatitis, a liver ailment, but the government press office said

End Cold War, Nehru's Appeal To Christians

Friendly Spirit Vital in Negotiating, He Tells Churchmen

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru appealed to Christian leaders from around the world today to approach international problems in a "friendly spirit rather than in the spirit of the cold war."

"If we seek peace, we must in some ways adopt the ways of peace," he told the general assembly of the World Council of Churches.

He urged the gathering of "the great leaders of religious thought" to face current international issues squarely and give mankind advice in solving them.

Can't Evade Problems

To evade them, he said, is no way to help in their resolution. But he pleaded that the "manner of approach be friendly" in dealing with the dangerous and extraordinary problems now pervading the international scene.

"The cold war method only aggravates the problems," he said. "I cannot understand how anyone thinks they can achieve peace by methods which only make for more and more war psychosis."

Nehru is not a Christian. He was born into the Hindu faith but later abandoned religion and became an agnostic.

The assembly today took up a committee report stating that whether it exists under a just government or tyranny, the church will still "obey its Lord."

No Oppression Named

The committee report singled out no particular nations as oppressors but said, "No present difficulties justify Christians or some Democrats insist upon raising churches in acquiescing in either old or new forms of tyranny. Government without consent of the governed cannot be approved by Christians in our time."

Regarding the cold war the report said years of mutual distrust have given nations "false and fixed images" of one another.

"The Marxist-Leninist view of basic conflict with capitalism does not necessarily mean that global nuclear war will inevitably take place," it said.

"On the other hand the goals of Western society do not necessarily imply an armed crusade."

The assembly, representing 198 Protestant, Orthodox and other denominations with more than 350 million members from all sections of the globe, took up reports as it neared its close Tuesday.

In a session Sunday night it hailed the "closer contacts which have recently been established" with Roman Catholic leaders and expressed hope "these will develop fruitfully in the future." The assembly also voiced its pleasure at the presence of observers from nonmember churches with special delegate to the United States.

The Cardinal, a former apostolic delegate, is in the United States to attend an interfaith conference in Dallas.

Nelson Makes Bid for Support in Personal Letters to Legislators

Post-Crescent News Service

MADISON — In an anxious and final appeal in support of his tax bill, Gov. Gaylord Nelson today told members of the state legislature that if they pass it into law they will earn "a public respect second to none."

Lawmakers will earn "a permanent place in the honorable history of our state," the governor said in personal letters to members of the assembly. The assembly will resume deliberations this afternoon on his compromise tax program involving a combination of higher income taxes and the levying of nine selective sales taxes.

The bill is widely thought to be in trouble although Nelson told his news conference today he regards the prospects for passage as good.

Want Revision

Yet Nelson wrote in a worried tone, as he told lawmakers his conviction that the people of Wisconsin want revision of state tax policy and that they "fervently hope" something can be done at this legislative session.

Nelson held out the possibility of favorable political reactions from the electorate because of the reduction in personal and real property taxes, contained in his fiscal program and the forgiveness of two-thirds of personal income taxes due next April that would result from the enactment of an income tax withholding law, effective in January.

Nelson did not refer to Republicans or Democrats. He appealed for a majority of 51 votes in the assembly and made it clear that he is not concerned about how the winning majority is put together.

He has repeatedly called for a "coalition of moderates," recognizing that some Republicans won't consent to anything less than a general sales tax and that some Democrats insist upon raising state funds exclusively through the income tax.

Overriding One

He said the tax revision question is the "overriding" one of this legislative session and "the hour of decision has arrived."

Nelson also told his news conference that Wilbur Renk of Sun Prairie, an announced candidate for the Republican nomination for governor next year, would be a good candidate and would bring

Katanga Said To Be Ready to Fire at Planes

U.N. Soldier Slain, 15 Others Being Held as Hostages

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga, the Congo (AP) — Katanga Foreign Minister Evariste Kimba threatened today to shoot down all U.N. planes flying over the secessionist province.

The acting U.N. chief in Katanga, George Ivan Smith, called the threat a "very grave statement" and reported it to U.N. headquarters in New York.

Katanga troops killed one U.N. soldier, wounded three others and seized 15 as hostages during the weekend.

In a communique Sunday night Kimba said the Katanga government had rejected an ultimatum by the United Nations for removal of all roadblocks. The communique said the United Nations had threatened to use force as authorized by the Security Council and the Katanga government had warned in turn that "force will be met with force."

Threatens to Fight

Smith sent a protest to Kimba calling for the immediate release of the 15 U.N. military personnel. In Paris, Katanga President Moise Tshombe declared that if U.N. forces attempt "a new armed intervention" in Katanga the fighting "will be on a major scale because the Katangan people are determined to preserve their freedom."

Tshombe accused U.N. Acting Secretary General U Thant of "intolerable provocation" by issuing an order to his representatives in the Congo to act vigorously to re-establish law and order.

Tshombe is reported to be on his way to Rio de Janeiro to attend a Moral Re-Armament conference.

Russians Talk of New Nuclear Tests

Even Underground Blasts Force Resumption, Reds Say

MOSCOW (AP) — The Russians, striving for "To end nuclear tests throughout the world or to continue their pursuit for an illusory superiority in nuclear weapons."

The Soviet government declared that unless the Western powers stop all nuclear weapons tests—including underground explosions—that don't produce radioactive fallout—it will resume "such nuclear tests as it deems necessary for the consolidation of its defense capacity."

A few hours after the Moscow warning the United States announced it had set off a low-yield underground nuclear blast Sunday and is preparing to go ahead with another test next Sunday.

"Our announced policy is to test and talk," a State Department spokesman said in Washington.

The Russians, who broke a three-year moratorium on nuclear testing Sept. 1 for a series of big to gigantic nuclear explosions in the atmosphere, said the time has come now "for the early achievement of an agreement which would rid the peoples of experimental weapon blasts."

Only small passages for traffic, about eight feet wide for vehicles and two to three feet for pedestrians, were left open.

Th East Germans said they were strengthening the wall to protect East Berlin from any ill-considered Western action. The Interior Ministry added that it was East Germany's reply to U.S. troop movements on the 100-mile autobahn linking West Berlin with the free world.

Maj. Gen. Albert Watson II, the U.S. commandant in West Berlin, rushed a written protest to his Soviet counterpart, Col. Andrei I. Soloviev.

Watson called the new East German action an illegal violation of the four-power occupation agreements on Berlin and demanded Soviet assurances that there would be no interference

Newspaper Still Popular Despite Radio and TV

Wisconsin Editors Hear UW Professor At AP Meeting

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A University of Wisconsin researcher told Wisconsin newspaper editors Saturday that despite the stepup of radio and television news coverage 86 per cent of the population still reads some part of a newspaper every day.

Percy Tannenbaum, director of the Mass Communications Research Center at the University of Wisconsin, addressed the annual fall convention of the Wisconsin Associated Press Association at the Milwaukee Inn.

He said that the pattern of readership continues trends which set in after World War II, but there are continuing changes in the newspaper approach to specialized subjects.

Different Parts

"Different parts of the newspaper are written in different ways for different audiences," Tannenbaum said.

He cited extensive studies of sports writing, for example, which showed the use of 89 different verbs in the first paragraph of basketball stories.

"We found that they communicate very well to the audience for which they are intended," he said, "although to non-sport readers they communicated much less."

"On the other hand, science writers seem to be reversing the technique of other special writers, the seeking less technical vocabularies for general understanding."

5,826 Stories

Chief of Bureau Austin Beal, who reported to the association that Wisconsin newspaper members contributed 5,826 news stories to The Associated Press the first 11 months of 1961. He also noted that 2,119 pictures of Wisconsin origin or interest moved to participating members on The Associated Press state wirephoto network during the same period.

Franklin D. Schurz, editor and publisher of the South Bend, Ind., Tribune, told the Wisconsin Associated Press Association convention Saturday that the AP's superiority in news and picture cov-

Missionaries Claim Methodist Missions Used as 'Scapegoat'

NEW YORK (AP)—Three missionaries, including one from Wisconsin, who were recently released from Portuguese prisons, accused Portugal Sunday of using their Methodist mission in Angola as a "scapegoat" to explain native unrest in the African colony.

Three of the missionaries arrived here Sunday. They are the Revs. Fred Clarke Brancel, 33, of Endeavor, Wis., E. Edwin Le Master, 39, of Lexington, Ky., and Marion Washington Way Jr., 31, of Charleston, S.C.

Fourth Member

A fourth member of the group, the Rev. Wendell L. Golden, 36, of Rockford, Ill., went to London instead of returning home.

Referring to the reasons for their arrests, The Rev. Mr. Brancel said that there was "an element of fear involved" and "there is an attempt by the Portuguese to put the finger on something or someone" for the uprisings in Angola.

Portugal had accused the four of terrorist activities. The missionaries were imprisoned for three months. They were released last Saturday and departed. They said they were not treated badly.

talks last week was interpreted as an indication they had completed their series of tests that included the biggest man-made explosion— one carrying a force of 50 million tons or more of TNT.

A U.S. State Department spokesman said Sunday night that the United States has no indication that the Soviet Union has stopped testing.

President Kennedy has said the United States also will resume testing in the atmosphere if the government feels this necessary for Western defense. U.S. experts are now evaluating the new Soviet weapons, as indicated by fallout samples and other evidence resulting from the recent test series, to determine if the claimed U.S. lead in nuclear weapons is endangered.

Best Network

"A reader of Wisconsin newspapers which carry both wire services cannot help but know how widely the AP news and news-photos are preferred in the competitive market."

Schurz pointed out that the Milwaukee AP Bureau "operates one of the best state wirephoto networks in the country."

Guardsmen Make Plans For Holidays

Most Plan Jaunt Home; Travel Facilities Jammed

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP) — A 32nd Division soldier's mother has relayed the complaint of her son that Wisconsin members of the unit are getting preferences in train and plane reservations for Christmas leave.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat said it received the report from a woman who said her son, an enlisted man, was married and his wife was expecting a baby in June.

Not Identified

The soldier was not identified. He was described as a member of Company A, 3rd Battle Group, 127th Infantry.

Lt. Lawrence Holtman, duty officer for the 3rd Battle group, said Sunday "this is a false report. The man responsible for setting up flights has been working to see that everyone who is allowed to go home over the holidays will get a ride home."

"Naturally, most of the transportation is headed for Wisconsin, including several chartered flights for Wisconsin runs. But we have been making sure that the other men get to railheads."

Holtman said it was impossible to arrange charter flights to non-Wisconsin points, since not enough men in the group are from these places.

A spokesman for the Great Northern Railway in Seattle said the division's transportation officer was arranging for two special Great Northern trains to St. Paul and for two other special trains on other lines. He said the trains would carry about 500 men each.

First Come Basis

A spokesman for United Air Lines said soldiers were being served on a first-come, first-served basis.

A division spokesman said the 32nd was trying to give everybody entitled to the Christmas leave an equal break on transportation. The division public information office said that about 75 per cent of the division, or about 9,750 out of 13,000 men, would get leaves from Dec. 20 to Jan. 3.

Those with families will get first preference, then married men without families, then single men.

Maj. Gen. Herbert Smith, ship division commanding officer, has issued a directive that there be no discrimination against anyone.

All but about 2,000 of the men are from Wisconsin with those from outside the state coming chiefly from Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois and Michigan. They are reservists called up to fill out the division.

A public information office spokesman said it would be impossible to determine at the present time how many Wisconsin guardsmen and how many reservists from other states would be going and by what method. He said some men were renting automobiles.

White Paper Due On N. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — W Averell Harriman says the United States will issue within a few days a white paper that "will give irrefutable evidence of the actions of North Viet Nam against South Viet Nam."

Returning home Sunday to take over as the new assistant secretary of state for the Far East, Harriman charged the North Viet Nam government with supporting subversion and guerrilla activity in violation of the 1954 Geneva agreement.

Dictatorship Feared

Thirteen rebellious air force officers seeking the removal of Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarría, the armed forces chief, claimed the support of most fellow officers for their charges that Rodriguez Echavarría was leading the nation toward a military dictatorship.

Rodriguez Echavarría charged in turn that the officers wanted the military to take over the government but that he had refused. The air force accepted the officers' resignations.

Lt. Col. Nelson Gonzalez Polanco, who was air force deputy chief of staff, said the officers' only aim was to eliminate the armed forces from politics.

Gonzalez Polanco charged that the government had tried to bribe the officers into silence after they had heard Balaguer paid off Rodriguez Echavarría and his brother, Gen. Pedro Santiago Rodriguez Echavarría, for their leading part in checking a coup attempt by two brothers of the late dictator, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo, on Nov. 19.

The officers claimed Gen. Andres Rodriguez Mendez, commander of the air base at Barahona in the southwest, was the real leader of the uprising.

Rodriguez Mendez now in Puerto Rico as Dominican delegate on the Inter-American Defense Board, called Balaguer Sunday demanding the removal of Pedro Rodriguez Echavarría. He charged the general planned to replace Rafael Trujillo Jr. as Dominican dictator.

Trujillo Jr., who took command of the armed forces after the assassination of his father last May 30, fled to Paris last month.

Named to run the survey are Notre Dame's president, the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh; George H. Shuster, noted Catholic layman and former president of Hunter College, and the Rt. Rev. Frederick G. Hochwalt, executive secretary of the National Catholic Education Association.

Americans Must Fight to Win Cold War, Harvey Says

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — A challenge to America to roll up its sleeves, "get scratching" and go back to work to win the Cold War was issued by radio commentator Paul Harvey before approximately 2,500 people at the Veterans Memorial Arena Saturday afternoon.

Harvey spoke as part of the day-long Project Alert seminar sponsored by Act, Inc., which also presented William P. Strube Jr., as conductor of the seminar.

America, Harvey said, is now engaged in a 20-year cold war for survival with communism and must stay strong, morally as well as militarily, to force a military stalemate and survive economically. The only way it can be done, he insisted, was by going back to the basic principles that have made America great and powerful.

America's cardinal weakness today, he said, is taking its blessings for granted. We have lost liberties, he insisted, because we were fat and lazy.

Unsure of Goals

"I'm not as anxious about dictatorship in Moscow," he declared at one point "as I am about the mushrooming dictatorship in Washington."

Asserting that America seemed unsure of its goals whereas communism is very sure of its own, Harvey quoted President Kennedy as saying that each day the hour of danger grows nearer. If we lack purpose we shall be outdistanced, he continued.

That nation will win the cold war, Harvey stated, which remains economically, socially, and morally strong enough to survive the next generation of trial. He called on the nation to stop expecting to coast to victory, to "stop lying down on the job and reach for the stars again."

"If we get whipped," he concluded, "it won't be because of the lousy communists but because of the lazy Americans."

Strube, president of the Mid-American Life Insurance Co. of Houston, Tex., and secretary of the Christian Anti-Communist Crusade, declared Saturday morning that the Communists had a plan for conquering the world within the life expectancy of people in the audience. He pointed out that the movement had grown from 17 men in 1903 to a political and ideological system exerting control over 1 billion people.

India, he said, is next on the agenda, then western Europe. followed by the conquest of America through a plan of "demoralization, degeneration and if necessary, devastation of the United States."

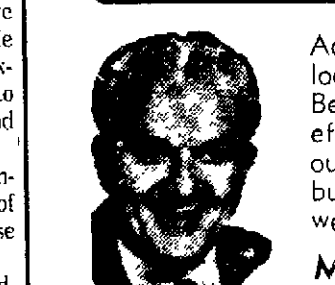

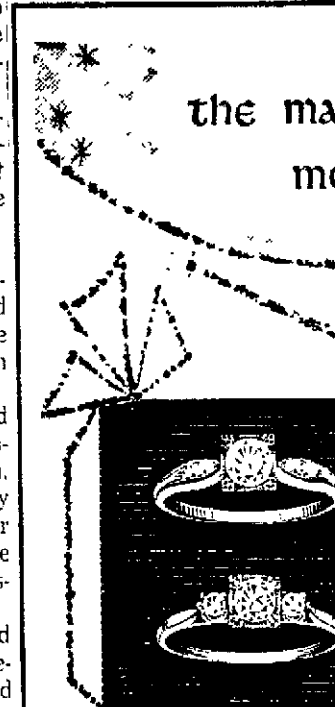

The method by which Communism hopes to conquer the United States without fighting, Strube said, consists of the strategy "encirclement plus demoralization equals surrender." Steps which encirclement is being achieved, he said, consist of steps in the economic, political, and military, ideological and geographical fields plus overwhelming numerical superiority.

Most of these steps, he claimed, had already been achieved.

In the Communist plans for demoralizing this country, Strube cited the use of narcotics, alcoholism, the rising rate of illegitimacy and youthful crime statistics, all factors which, in his opinion, are undermining the American will to fight back.

Reds Refuse to Register

Now that Communist Party officers have neglected to register under provisions of the Internal Security Act of 1950, further prosecution by the Justice Department is expected. But the matter has not been settled. The years of litigation may be only at the halfway mark.

One point of view holds that these legal tangles are advantageous since they get the Communist Party so involved it doesn't have time to subvert or work actively at overthrowing the government. And actually the question of whether the United States Communists are really more than a nagging irritation is one that lies behind the court maneuvers.

The Smith Act of 1940, upheld at least in part by the United States Supreme Court, makes membership in any organization advocating the overthrow by force of the government a crime. Several Communists have been sent to jail under this act. Since at this point of the Twentieth century, Communism, or at least the Soviet variety is the primary threat to liberty and human rights, the law seems not only constitutional as decided by the Supreme Court, but reasonable. The actual degree of danger to the U.S. by its own Communist Party may have been overemphasized and we rather think it has. But the history of Red take-overs in other countries has indicated that only a small party membership is essential if other climates are right for the seizure of power. Although the U.S. seems to be the last nation in the world where Communism could be accepted, the danger was enough to warrant the Smith Act.

But the Internal Security Act of 1950, held constitutional by the Supreme Court only in that the requirement of registration was not an unconstitutional abridgment of freedom of association, throws some new questions into the fray. The Communist argument, and certainly that raised by a lot of other people, is whether the requirement to register as the member of an organization to which it is a crime to belong does not constitute forced self-incrimination and a violation of the Fifth Amendment.

The idea of not requiring a person to testify against himself was not dreamed up by the Communists although a lot of them have used the provision. It goes back to early Anglo-Saxon principles of justice and was written into the Bill of Rights without argument. Although the Fifth actually states that some self-incrimination can not be required in a criminal case, 19th century court decisions extended the protection to virtually all judicial or investigative proceedings if testimony might lead to a criminal charge.

The Supreme Court consistently has upheld the right of individuals to invoke the Fifth when asked about Communist or front organization membership since the passage of the Smith Act. In an effort to get around the wall, provisions have been made to extend immunity from prosecution to people testifying before some congressional committees. Since it seems inconceivable that the Supreme Court would rule that forced registration as a member of the Communist Party is not self-incrimination, it may be that some sort of immunity can be written into the Internal Security Act. This would take the teeth out of the Smith Act, but it might enable the government to keep an eye upon admitted party members.

The next litigation from Communist Party members will probably come in an effort to prove that the $10,000 per day fine for each day they are not registered is a violation of the Eighth Amendment prohibiting cruel and unusual punishment. In this case it would appear that the Court would have to weigh the danger of the Communist Party itself in the United States. We have a feeling the present Court would not consider it a great menace.

The real spies who have been captured have kept as far away as possible from the U.S. Communist Party. But perhaps the continued pressure of the threat of prosecution makes secretive action so necessary to the active Reds that their vicious work is handicapped. The Justice Department, which is pushing the indictments, is in the best possible position to know. The U.S. Communist Party itself may be small peanuts and consisting of a vocal lunatic fringe. But opening it up legally as merely a political body would make much easier the work of the spies who would sell us out.

Nevertheless, there is a conflict between the Internal Security Act and the Smith Act. One or the other would seem to need revision.

Gov. Nelson Appoints Another Judge

Recently when Governor Nelson was called upon to fill a vacancy caused by the election of Circuit Judge Myron L. Gordon to the supreme court, he went outside of his own party and named Civil Judge John A. Decker to succeed Judge Gordon. There was strong protest from some of the Democratic leaders in Milwaukee County but the governor stood his ground, firmly, replying, "In making judicial appointments, I have tried to select the most qualified persons irrespective of party. I will continue to choose the most qualified individuals I can find to fill these nonpartisan positions."

That was a fine statement. It was acknowledged as such in these columns at the time. It gave hope that in Wisconsin at least we had a governor who was determined to take judicial appointments out of politics even at some cost to himself. However, lip service is one thing and action is another.

Last Tuesday Governor Nelson named James W. Byers, a 35-year-old Green Bay attorney, to succeed Brown County Municipal Judge Donald W. Gleason, who is moving up to Circuit Court Branch I for Brown, Door and Kewaunee Counties. Some members of the Brown County Bar Association, perhaps a majority, had reason to pick up the governor's words spoken in the Milwaukee case and attempt to apply them to the Brown County case. Needless to say many of them believe the governor has talked one way and acted another.

Members of the Brown County Bar Association were well aware that the bar had considered the three candidates to succeed Judge Gleason and had given them a rating for the governor's benefit. Possibly out of consideration for the feelings of those who stood low in the rating test the Bar Association declined to have the vote published. It contented itself with the statement that three candidates have been recommended to the governor. It was assumed of course that the governor would take notice of the fact that some 58 votes had been cast for J. Norman Basten, that District Attorney Robert W. Warren had received 15 votes and that Attorney Byers had received 12 votes.

Members of the bar did not take into account the fact that there might be a very active political influence directed toward naming a candidate which some working Democrats thought would be more beneficial to the structure of the Democratic Party in Brown County than would be the selection of a judge on the basis of the bar's recommendations. But that is apparently what happened.

It is reported that the governor finally suggested that the Brown County Democrats call their executive committee together to decide the point. It is reported also that this so-called executive committee met and voted 7 to 6 in favor of Byers.

This department does not have inside information on the workings of the Democratic Party in Brown County. But it has been informed by what it believes to be an unimpeachable source that there was such a meeting and such a result.

If that is true, as we firmly believe it is, it seems quite likely that the governor would find it difficult to justify his choice on the basis of his statement made in the Milwaukee case.

Mr. Byers, so far as the Post-Crescent is aware, is not necessarily concerned in this. We have no criticism of him. He may make a fine judge and we sincerely hope that he does. Our criticism is directed at the governor and at the loose system of selecting judges which prevails in Wisconsin. The old statement that a judge is a lawyer who knew a governor may soon be out of date. It may be necessary to say the judge is a lawyer who knew a ward healer who knew someone in the governor's office.

Decisions on Who Gets Subsidies Would be Hard

From The Cleveland Plain Dealer

The head of the American Federation of Musicians is urging government subsidies for the performing arts. We hope we will not be considered anti-cultural when we say a thousand times, no.

Who is going to determine what is a performing art? There's the rub. One man's art is another man's headache but once the government gets into the business of subsidy in this field, who's to say what qualifies and what does not?

We can envision the violence that would follow if the government bureau in charge of supporting financially the performing arts (oh, yes, Virginia, there'll always be a new government bureau) would decide to allot money to ballet dancers but not to tattoo artists, to tap dancers but not to tuba players.

Really Chills Us

The thought that really chills us, however, concerns those finger-snapping destroyers of beautiful music, the untrained torso-awaying nasal chanters who wouldn't know a musical clef if they swallowed one.

We mean these guitar-plunking idols of the screamers among the junior set, the alleged singers who feel that putting "My Buddy" into hotcha-cha rhythm rightfully jazzes up the old number. Can you imagine what a lobby that group could command? Can you fancy your tax money supporting some boob with sideburns down to his ankles?

For the benefit of mankind, the deserving but unsupported performing artists must get along as best they can on their own. Now, if somebody proposes government subsidies to plow under certain performing artists, we will sit down and listen to that.

Documents Prove Thanksgiving Was Celebrated First in Virginia

BY LYNN POOLE

A year ago I wrote a column about the first Thanksgiving in the United States which the history books tell us was held by the Pilgrim and Puritan fathers of Massachusetts in December, 1621.

No comment came from readers in north, east or west. But, a flood of letters arrived on my desk from Virginia. Along with the letters came documentary evidence that the first Thanksgiving was celebrated on Dec. 4, 1619 in the Virginia Colony.

I assured my readers from the south that this year I would tell the story of Virginia's day of Thanksgiving. And, I now keep that promise, with pleasure.

On Dec. 4, 1619, a sailing ship, the "Margaret", captained by John Woodliffe, pushed its way up the James River to a point 20 miles above famous Jamestown colony. Cap. Woodliffe and his 33 settlers stepped ashore and gave thanks for a safe Atlantic Ocean crossing.

Cap. Woodliffe offered prayers and said, "... the day of our ship's arrival... shall be yearly and perpetually a day of Thanksgiving to Almighty God."

Prepare Feast

Ladies of the landing party prepared a special meal, using the best of the stores in their possession for a feast. The day of Thanksgiving was observed each year until 1622 when in March of that year the colony was cut in half by an Indian rebellion. But, after that the date was observed as Thanksgiving for those who remained alive, and to commemorate the original arrival of the settlers.

The spot where the Virginia settlers landed is Berkeley Plantation, an elegant estate still occupied and run as a working plantation today. Owned by Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Jamieson, the plantation is often open for special tours. I had the privilege of spending an evening there during Christmas holidays a few years ago, therefore can say from personal knowledge that a jeweler spot could not be imagined for celebrating a national holiday.

Full Dinner

Last year special festivities were held at Berkeley Plantation on Dec. 4, after an Episcopal service, a full dinner in true 17th century style was served. Hot spiced-flavored plantation apple cider was the appetizer, followed with planked Virginia turkey, roasted apples and all the trimmings for a festive meal.

Although Dec. 4 is becoming a special holiday in Virginia, residents of the state long ago joined in the New England Thanksgiving celebration of late November, the date gradually accepted by the entire United States as the national holiday.

While we are on the subject of authenticity of the day, many historians doubt that turkey, dressing, pumpkin pie and mince pie is really the correct food for the groaning board. Instead, if following the New England tradition we should eat shellfish and venison. Many believe that to have been the food placed before thankful banquets in the Massachusetts Colony.

Combining Virginian and Massachusetts menus this year we might all have an unusual dinner, beginning with hot apple cider, progressing into a course of spiced apples, roasted potatoes with slices of Virginia ham, —then attack plates of piping hot deer meat, topped off with spoon bread and venison gravy. Then, should we be able to eat another bite, we could have the pumpkin and mince pies — topped with steaming hot coffee.

Navy Ships, Personnel Increase

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for Dec. 7, 1861.

Steam, as well as heavy ordnance, has become an indispensable element of the most efficient naval power.

Eleven thousand mechanics and laborers have been in the daily employment of the Government at the different Navy yards, in the building and preparation of vessels, and equipping and arming them for war service. But this large force has not been able to dispatch the work with the rapidity demanded and the Navy Department has been compelled to resort to private shipyards and outside labor as a consequence.

There have been appointed from the commercial marine, 25 acting volunteer lieutenants, 43 acting masters and 209 masters' mates. There has been an aggregate of 993 acting appointments for temporary service made by the Department since the present difficulties began, and these include paymasters, engineers, assistant engineers, and assistant surgeons.

Orders were given in April and May to enlist 1,253 additional non-commissioned officers and privates in the Marine Corps to meet the requirements of the service. A general return shows the actual strength of the corps, ashore and afloat, to have been at that time 2,964. (From report of Secretary of Navy Welles)

Annual Sessions No Legislative Remedy

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — At intervals critics of the legislative system who are overtaken with reform zeal propose that the constitution be changed to require annual deliberations of the senate and assembly.

Such proposals occasionally get the endorsement of respectable authority. Thus a decade or so ago the state auditor, J. J. Kelher, whose duties include advising the legislature on worthy improvements in the general operations of the state establishment, seriously suggested that an annual legislative session would improve the management of state finance.

Such annual sessions could be short in duration, and lawmakers would be enabled to respond more effectively to the needs of the times, including the problem of fitting appropriations to current situations, so the argument goes.

BUT... SOUND GOOD

Like certain kinds of music, such reform propositions often sound better than they are.

The current legislative session, dragging on into December after it started last January, might give some pause to those who believe that merely having more frequent meetings would improve anything.

Annual sessions would simply provide the means for increasing the pressure upon the legislature on bills of all kinds, and especially on appropriation bills.

One of the sure results of an annual session to replace the two-year state budget would be to accelerate the already rapid rate of increases in state government expenditure. That conclusion perhaps is shared now by Kelher also, for he has not renewed his proposal lately.

The 1961 legislature has been in session longer than any of its predecessors in modern times. One might assume that anybody who had a legislative problem that needed a remedy, or a responsible proposition of any kind to submit to these lawmakers, had plenty of time during the regular deliberations of eight months earlier in the year.

Yet every day the legislature is receiving new appeals for additional bills covering scores of situations that apparently did not occur to their authors during the long months of last winter and spring.

In spite of the resistance to the introduction of new matter, and the barriers in the rules erected against it, dozens of such bills are being introduced and will make their contribution to the delay of final adjournment to Christmas and possibly later.

THE RULE

It is in the nature of legislatures to receive bills and to invent them on their own initiative if they are not offered from the outside.

A yearly session simply would multiply the opportunities and the temptations, and provide a way for the repetition of all of the old chestnuts that are now being offered biennially at considerable cost in printing and other mechanical overhead.

The idea that a yearly session will be a short session is a dream. Short sessions are attained either under mandatory rules, as in Minnesota and some other states of the country, or through the collective self-restraint of members of the disciplinary rules of majority parties. Long-time observers of the Wisconsin process have little confidence in either method.

But perhaps the greatest deterrent to an annual session is the avenue it would provide for doubling of pressure for spending. The spending lobbies are resisted only half-heartedly today. Given a doubling of their opportunities, they would ride high.

New System Will Keep Food Hot, Customer Cool

From the Anderson (S.C.) Independent

Did you ever sit in a restaurant and watch your completed order grow cold while the waitress meandered hither and yon? Few things in this world will heat up a customer any more rapidly than food which has been permitted to grow cold because the waitress didn't know it was ready.

This is why we are enthusiastic about a new radio system, already at work in a New York restaurant, which activates a radio receiver carried by the waiter or waitress, thus letting him (or her) know when the food comes off the stove.

Under such a system your food comes to you piping hot, and you yourself can keep cool. When every restaurant in the nation is so equipped this will be a much happier place in which to live.—

Diving Catch Enables Colts To Tip 49ers

Orr Snags 41-Yard Touchdown Pass For 20-17 Victory

BALTIMORE (AP)—A juggling, diving catch by Jimmy Orr of a 41-yard touchdown pass brought the Baltimore Colts a last-minute 20-17 National Football League victory over the San Francisco 49ers Sunday.

The seventh victory in 12 games kept alive the Colts' chances for second place in the Western Conference. Detroit is in the runner-up spot with a 7-4-1 record. Each have two games to play.

The winning Colt touchdown with 1:11 to play was one of the few of many long passes thrown by quarterback Johnny Unitas to Orr on the mark.

Orr, who had just come into the game as a substitute halfback, flipped the ball twice inside the 5-yard line before holding on to it as he fell across the goal.

But for the fifth time this season, it was Steve Myhra's field goal that was the ultimate margin of victory for the Colts. Early in the fourth period, he booted one from 23 yards and in the second quarter he contributed three points from 33 yards out.

San Francisco went ahead 17-10 early in the fourth quarter on a three-yard touchdown run by J. D. Smith to cap a 95-yard march that consumed almost all of the scoreless third quarter.

The team wound up tied 10-10 at the half after bouncing the ball back and forth to each other. The Colts moved to the first touchdown after a pass intended for Aaron

'Nervous' Vince Lombardi Lauds Play of Hornung, Dowler and Starr

BY LEE REMMELL
Post-Crescent News Service
MILWAUKEE — With frayed nerve ends gnawing at his composure, Vince Lombardi plopped into a folding chair in a secluded corner of the dressing room, minutes after the Packers had secured their second consecutive Western Division championship in County Stadium here Sunday afternoon.

"I don't get nervous," he joked, flustered his strong, broad hands for the education of the press corps. "But look at me now."

In a matter of seconds, he had revealed the Packers' secret of success—but not their formula. "We got off the ball as quick as we have since the Cleveland game," Vince confessed, "we got off the ball real well."

Primarily as Blocker
Tuning, he further intimated, was weighed all the way. "We used Hornung (Paul) available on leave from Fort Riley, Kans.) primarily as a blocker. After all,"

Vince pointed out, "He can't run—he's lost his timing."

"But," he admitted, "Hornung blocked the hell out of that end—and those linebackers—at least I assume he did."

Peerless Paul was not the only Packer hero, Lombardi was quick to note. "Bart Starr," he said, "played a tremendous game. He brought us down there I don't know how many times. Regardless, we were in there close often."

Unable to restrain himself, Lombardi bounded out of the chair, inhaled deeply of his cigarette and observed, "We didn't get a break in the first three quarters but we got the big one in the last period, didn't we?"

Lombardi, never hesitant to apportion honors, insisted, "a great deal of credit" should go to the

Eagles Whip Steelers, 35-24, Gain Tie for Eastern Lead

Meet Giants Next Sunday In Philadelphia

BY JOE BRADIS
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sonny Jurgensen, with a big lift from a ball-hawking defense, moved the Philadelphia Eagles into a tie for first place in the National Football League's Eastern Division Sunday with a 35-24 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The victory gave the Eagles a 9-3 record, tying them with the New York Giants, beaten 20-17 by the Green Bay Packers. Green Bay clinched the Western Conference title with the triumph over the Giants.

The Eagles and the Giants meet face to face next Sunday in Philadelphia.

Jurgensen tossed two touchdown passes but it was the defense that set up four of Philadelphia's five touchdowns—three on pass interceptions and one on a 66-yard punt return by Timmy Brown. Brown scored the fifth Eagles touchdown with a 42-yard romp in the final seconds.

The Eagles swiped two passes by Rudy Bukich in the first quarter and converted them into touchdowns.

Don Burroughs pilfered the first set up by fumble recoveries and aerial by Bukich and returned to the Steelers' in two plays later.

Lions Tip Bears, 16-15, In Closing Seconds on Martin's Extra Point

Chicago's Leclerc Ties Record With Five Field Goals

BY JERRY LISKA
CHICAGO (AP)—Detroit's touchdown with Jim Martin's extra point from the 24-yard line in the final 22 seconds gave the Lions a 16-15 victory Sunday over the Chicago Bears, whose Roger Leclerc, equally a 25-year-old National Football League record of five field goals.

Leclerc's fifth fielder gave the Bears a 15-9 lead at the start of the fourth period, but quarterback Earl Morrall, filling in for injured Jim Ninowski, moved the Lions 73 yards on four passes, hitting Terry Barr with a five-yard scoring show with time running out.

Martin, Detroit place-kicking veteran, apparently booted the clinching 16th point, but the Lions were charged with holding. Then, Martin coolly kicked the game-winning point from the 24-yard line.

Matches Record
Leclerc, Bear sophomore from Trinity College, kicked field goals from the 32, 30 and 15, and two from the 12, as he matched the league record first set by Ernie Nevers of the Duluth Eskimos in 1926 and tied by Los Angeles' Bob Waterfield against Lions in 1951.

The Lions, who tightened their hold on second place in the Western Division, moved ahead in the day—probably of the year. Jess Whittenton, doing a wonderful job by holding Dale Shofner, to one pass reception, stole the ball from Alex Webster 30 yards from the Giants' goal line and four plays later the Bays had a lead they never lost—namely 20 to 17, in the fourth quarter.

Packers Edge Giants, Win Western Crown

This was a frustrating game for the Bays. While they had the good fortune to score from close in, they actually "lost" three touchdowns in the shadow of the Giants' goal. The Giants recovered a Taylor fumble on the 1 and intercepted Bart Starr passes on the 1 and 3.

This was a tennis-neck game at the start. On the game's first five series, the Giants sawed to a 14-13 lead. First, Paul Hornung kicked the first of two field goals for a 3-0 Packer lead on the opening kickoff. Next, the Giants rolled 71 yards to take a 3-3 lead on Y. A. Tittle's sneak. The Packers rammed right back to make it 7-6 on Hornung's second field goal.

Willie Davis recovered a fumble to set off Taylor's first TD—a 14-yard bolt that made it 13-7. Then early in the second period Bob Gaiters ripped two yards to end a 70-yard march for a 14-13 Giant lead.

The defenses then proceeded to slam the doors shut. The only other scoring was Pat Summerall's 41-yard field goal just before the half and Taylor's second TD, a 3-yard smash.

Recovers 2 Fumbles
Davis recovered two fumbles and his second, on which he collaborated with Tom Bettis, might have saved the game. The Giants, after intercepting a batted-up Starr pass in the last five minutes, moved down to the 22 with 2:24 left when Bettis muffed up a double reverse between Webster and Gaiters, forcing Gaiters to fumble. Davis fell on the ball, with Bettis on top of him to make sure, and the Bays ran out the clock with four Hornung-Taylor rushes for 21 yards.

The Bays smashed the Giants' tough defenses for 415 yards, including a fantastic 270 yards rushing. New York hardly had the ball in the last half except for two late moves—one resulting in a field goal miss by Pat Summerall from 34 yards out and the other leading up to the final fumble.

Taylor was at his best and meanest. The human run-away box car established a new Packer record by gaining 186 yards in 27 attempts, breaking the record of 169 set by Billy Grimes back in 1950.

Big Jim was getting daylight on the left side of the Packer line—thanks to Bob Skoronski and Fred Thurston who were handling the gigantic Rosey Grier and his mates, and the fullback was doing the rest in the open. On his 14-yard TD run, Taylor spun Jim my Patton clear around on the 2-yard line.

Guided by Starr
The entire squad had a finger in this championship pie. The offense, guided by Starr, was anchored by the front line—Skoronski, Thurston, Jim Ringo, Norm Masters and Forrest Gregg and the big-yard guns all got in their licks at holding the ball-Taylor, Hornung, who averaged nearly five yards in 11 cracks despite those GI legs of his, Dowler who caught two and once knocked over the highly-publicized Sam Huff, McGee who caught two and lost a couple on "interference," Ron Kramer who snagged three including one that preceded the first TD. The Bays made 25 first downs.

The Bays' defense faced a Giant offense that had averaged 42 points a game for four weeks. New York got only seven first downs after the score was 14-13 and the losers made only 69 yards rushing, which is practically unbelievable. The Giants got 210 yards passing but roughly 125 of that came in the first 16 minutes.

The Packers went through without an interception but the receivers were closely guarded and let's settle for three fumble grabs, anyhow. The defensive line (Hank Jordan, Bill Quinlan, Willie Davis and Dave Hanner who was sick with the flu) just wouldn't budge. This unit pitched Tittle back for two losses totaling 17 yards on the two series after the Giants' second TD.

Behind the line, Bill Forester, Dan Currie and Bettis were exceptionally eager—along with Whittenton.

The officials had a field day, call 11 penalties—eight on the Packer for 102 yards and three on NY for 45. Both teams were roughing aplenty and the officials seemed to have trouble getting together on pass interference.

A personal foul penalty on the Giants helped the Bays in their opening field goal drive. After Taylor made 13 on the first play on which the Packers used the double wing, Kramer caught a Starr pass for 7 and that personal foul set the ball on the Giant 41. Starr caught the Giants in a red dog so he flipped a quickie to McGee who made 18. The attack stalled and Hornung assented a 32-yard field goal at 4:18.

Now it was the Giants' turn rolling 71 yards for a 7-3 lead. The big play was a 25 yard third down pass from Tittle to Joe Walton with Currie barely missing Tittle for a loss. Gaiters ran 17 to the eight and three plays later Tittle "snuck" over. Summerall made it 7-3 at 8:35.

Strong running by Taylor and McGee's 11-yard catch—plus a dropped pass by Taylor on the Giant 14, brought on Hornung's second field goal—from 25 yards, at 12:49.

Tackles Joel Wells
On the next kickoff Ken Iman tackled Joel Wells hard and Davis snared the fumble on the Giants' 34. Kramer made a great one-handed catch on Hornung's pass to the 14 and Taylor then shot off left tackle for the TD. Hornung converted at 14:14 and it was 13-7.

Two successive Tittle-to-Rote passes for 39 and 18 yards set up the Giants' lead TD, with the Gaiters carrying over from the two. Summerall made it 14-13 at 14:44 of the second half.

It was a stalemate while Chandler and McGee each punted twice, the Bays, on Chandler's 28-yard punt, got a drive started from the Giant 46. Taylor and Tom Moore moved 11 yards and Taylor then took a flare pass for 18 yards to the 14. After Kramer took Starr's pass for 12 yards, Taylor hit off right tackle and fumbled one yard from a TD, with Erich Barnes recovering.

Just before the half, in fact at the 1:00 mark, Summerall kicked a 41 yard field goal for a 17-13 lead.

After Jordan and Co forced a punt early in the third period the Bays threatened again. Hornung and Taylor made 12 and then Dowler made a fine catch of a Starr pass for 14 yards with three Giants around him. Taylor made 16 on a draw and then Starr ducked from Scott, not to mention a 12-yard loss, and ran 19 yards to the five. Bart fumbled and recovered for a 3-yard loss and on the next play his pass was batted up and Patton fielded it on the one and returned 18 yards.

Again Chandler and McGee exchanged two punts as the battle moved into the fourth period. McGee's second punt was downed by Elijah Pitts on the eight-yard line.

On the Giant's first play Webster hit off left tackle and into the wide open space. Whittenton hooked in front of him and started digging the ball out of his arms on the 25. By the time they reached the 30 Jess (and the Packers) had complete possession.

The Giants roughed Starr on the first play and that put the ball on the 15. Hornung then cracked left tackle for seven and Taylor hit the same side for five to the three. On first down Taylor shot like a cannon between Skoronski and Thurston for the TD. Hornung made it 20-17 at 3:20.

After Summerall missed his field goal try, the Packers made three first downs on six carries by Taylor in seven plays. The first play was a 43-yard burst by game here. That's a great football team they've got."

A great many passes—more than normal—had been batted down by the defensive linemen, it was ventured. Any explanation? "Roosevelt Grier, for example, is like trying to throw over a stone wall. He stands about 8 feet when he gets his hands in the air," Vince chuckled.

How about the Packers' service personnel? What's their status? "I don't know," Vince said, "but certainly we intend to use them anytime they come. We don't know from week to week."

"And," somebody said, "now

Davis' recovery on Gaiters' fumble on the 14 was a double reverse on the Packer 27 and the Bays' four time-killing plays followed.

the draft." "Yes," Vince grinned back, "Now the draft."

Althe Sherman, the Giants' freshman head coach, took full responsibility for the giants' critical fourth period fumble. "That was my call," Sherman insists. "We knew that we were in there for a field goal but we thought this play could take us in."

Terming it "the toughest game of the year," Sherman asserted, "that's a solid ball club. You can't afford to make mistakes against a club like that."

The break, Lombardi had been quoted as saying, had gone the wrong way for three quarters. Any comment? "I don't look at breaks. I think both teams suffered and both were recipients of some good luck."

The Giants' downfall, he said, stemmed from the fact "we were not moving the ball in the second half as we did in the first."

How about the departure of Y. A. Tittle in favor of venerable Charle Conerly?

"We had lost some continuity," Sherman said, "and they were doing some jumping around on defense so I wanted Y. A. to see what was going on from the sidelines."

Jurgensen hit Bobby Wakston with a 17-yard pass for a touchdown.

Chuck Bednarik raced 30 yards to the Steelers' 1 with the second interception and Clarence Peaks plunged over for the score.

With less than a minute left in the second quarter, Burroughs grabbed a pass by Steeler quarterback Bobby Layne on the Eagles' 25. Jurgensen then passed to Pete Retzlaff who lateraled to Brown. Brown ran down the sidelines to the 6 where two plays later Jurgensen hit Dick Lucas for the score.

Brown's 66 yard touchdown run on a punt return in the third quarter sealed the victory for the Eagles. He added another touchdown with 26 seconds remaining in the game on a 42-yard burst around left end.

Layne passed for three Steeler touchdowns, connecting with Preston Carpenter on a seven-yard loss in the first quarter, throwing eight yards to John Henry Johnson in the third period and eight yards to Bob Schnelker in the final quarter.

Lou Michaels kicked a 37-yard field goal in the second period for Pittsburgh.

Brief fistcuffs broke out with 54 seconds left in the final quarter with Gene (Big Daddy) Lipscomb and Howard Keys exchanging blows.

Four players were hospitalized in the bruising battle. The Steelers lost defensive end George Tarasovic who suffered torn ligaments of the right knee and tackle Charles Bradshaw who sustained a shoulder separation. The Eagles lost guard Stan Campbell with a dislocated shoulder and Irv Cross, a defensive halfback, whose injury was not determined immediately.

Score 3 Times in First Period, Stay in Eastern Title Race

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Cleveland used two recovered fumbles and a pass interception for three first period touchdowns Sunday and went on to a 38-17 victory over Dallas to hang tightly in the Eastern Division race of the National Football League.

Bernie Parrish picked up a fumble and ran 34 yards for one score, Vince Costello intercepted a fumble in the air and raced 30 for another and Parrish then intercepted a pass to set up the third touchdown before Dallas could get started.

A crowd of 23,500 cheered at a spirited comeback by the Cowboys, led by little Eddie LeBaron, who passed to veteran Jim Doran for two touchdowns.

Lou Groza made eight points and is only one shy of tying the all-time NFL scoring record held by Don Hutson of the Green Bay Packers. The skilled place-kicker of the Browns converted after five touchdowns and booted a 20-yard field goal. He now has 284 points in 11 seasons. Hutson scored 825 in 11 from 1935-45.

Cleveland pulled within a game of the leaders in the NFL Eastern Division where New York and Philadelphia are tied with 9-3. Cleveland is 8-4.

Jim Brown, the great Cleveland runner, managed only 86 yards against the rugged Dallas defense but he scored one touchdown on a yard plunge and took a 21-yard pass for another Bobby Mitchell was the big runner for the Browns, roaming for 140 yards. Don Perkins of the Cowboys gained 123.

The mighty George Blanda is getting most of the credit for Houston's American Football League surge that has shot it to the top of the Eastern Division and made it a favorite for the championship.

But what about the coach? Blanda, who put on a great show Sunday in leading the Oilers to a 33-13 victory over Houston's Oilers, certainly has earned all his encomiums. But this coach, Wally Lemm, must be the most successful one in the world today.

Houston hasn't lost a game since Lemm took over Oct. 16 in an effort to pull the Oilers from the doldrums. They've won seven straight.

Lemm spoke of the team effort as he praised his boys for reversing the 34-23 licking they took from San Diego more than two months ago. Of course Lemm meant that the other boys were just giving Blanda the help all great football players have to have.

Four Touchdowns
George passed for four touchdowns, kicked two field goals and converted three times. That accounts for all the Houston points.

"Our line gave Blanda some great protection," remarked Lemm.

can I," said McNeeley. "If I get him down, I'll keep him down." All of Patterson's eight title fights have ended in knockouts. He won seven of them, losing to Johansson in the seven-knockdown third round of their first fight June 26, 1959. In his next two fights he flattened Ingo in the fifth and sixth rounds.

Liston hopes to get the next crack at Patterson if both win tonight. But there's a strong possibility that the plum will go to England's Henry Cooper if the British champion again defeats contender Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., in their ten rounder in London Tuesday night. Cooper is ranked third by Ring and fourth by the NBA.

For tonight's title fight the scoring will be by the five point system. The winner of each round gets five points, the loser four or less. Six ounce gloves will be used. The eight-count for knockdowns will be compulsory. Jersey Joe Walcott, the former heavyweight champion from Camden, N.J., will be the referee.

Colts Owe 49ers Nothing on Deal For Joe Perry

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts, who boast they signed quarterback John Unitas at the cost of an 80-cent telephone call, have topped even that performance in their acquisition of Joe Perry.

The veteran fullback, obtained last winter from the San Francisco 49ers, didn't cost the Colts a cent. They won't even have to surrender a draft choice.

A San Francisco official revealed Sunday that since Perry had not reached "certain performance specifications" this season, the Colts owe the 49ers nothing.

The specifications obviously were high, because the Baltimore club has received a top-notch sear from Perry, who will be 35 year's young.

The National Football League's all-time leading ground gainer has picked up 634 yards rushing in 12 games for Baltimore, with a 3.9 yard average in 163 carries. For his 12 year NFL career, Perry has gained 7,880 yards on the ground.

Fans Celebrate In Downtown Green Bay

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP)—Green Bay, the smallest city in the National Football League, made a big noise Sunday when its Packers won their second straight Western Conference title.

Hardly a wheel turned in the city early in the afternoon, but at 3:35 p.m., after the Packers had beaten the New York Giants 20-17 in Milwaukee, thousands of the community's 62,000 residents abandoned their radio and television sets and converged on the downtown sector.

The outburst was confined to horn honking by motorists and cheers by the fans on foot. Police said a "major traffic jam" resulted but officers managed to keep traffic moving on main streets.

Most of the hubbub ended by nightfall, but the bars and nightclubs reported business much better than on the average Sunday night.

Two Former Warriors Taken in AFL Draft

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Two members of the 1960 Marquette University football team were drafted Saturday for American Football League teams. George Andrie, an end, was picked by San Diego and Ken Shaffer, a tackle, was taken by Houston.

Both finished school last June and were eligible for the draft. Marquette dropped football at the end of the 1960 season.

More Relaxed Than Last Year

Champagne Missing but Sparkle of Packers Reflects Satisfaction

BY LEN WAGNER
Post-Crescent News Service

MILWAUKEE — The champagne may have been missing but the sparkle was there nevertheless as the Packers accepted their second straight Western Division championship of the National Football League in almost subdued fashion in their dressing room after the game.

The sparkle was present in the grins and obvious satisfaction at a job well done.

Willie Wood, a happy rookie on last year's division champs and a tested veteran of this year's champs, probably expressed the emotions of the team as a whole when he declared that "this is a more mature team than last year's was."

While flashbulbs were brightening the scene and TV cameras were whirring, the team attempted to settle down to routine dressing . . . but with the added knowledge that they were "in."

Jerry Kramer, a paradox of a figure in the celebration surrounding him, grimaced and said, "I wish I could have been more of a part of this game, but I'll tell you one thing, this team was really up. That's been the secret all year. This team has never let down."

Kramer watched the game from the sidelines recovering from a leg injury suffered in the second Viking game but he found a moment in the dressing room to throw his arms around fellow guard Fred (Fuzzy) Thurston and exclaiming simply, "We did it."

Green Bay Drops Hewitt's, 82-76, In BABA Opener

NEENAH — Green Bay defeated Hewitt's, 82-76, in their Badger Amateur Basketball Association opener Saturday night.

After trailing 19-17 at the quarter, Hewitt's led 42-41 at halftime. The Twin Cities fell behind, 61-55, at the close of three segments.

Bob Hoerning led the Bay attack with 26 points. Roy Smith and Dave Teller each posted 15. Ralph Kiesow scored 17. John Stark 16 and Ruf Ihde 15 for Hewitt's.

Rams Lose, 42-21

McElhenny, of Vikings, Hits 10,000-Yard Mark

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP)—Hugh McElhenny went over the 10,000-yard mark Sunday in career yardage, but rookies Ray Hayes and Fran Tarkenton stole the show to lead the Minnesota Vikings to a 42-21 victory over Los Angeles.

McElhenny carried for five yards, took a four-yard pass from Tarkenton, and then rambled 16 yards to bring his total to an even 10,000 yards. He finished with 43 yards, and a total of 10,018.

McElhenny is believed to be the only player in National Football League history to gain more than 10,000 yards. Joe Perry of Baltimore is second to McElhenny.

Hayes was a big gun, however, repeatedly ripping through the middle of the line for big yardage. He totaled 123 yards in 18 carries for the game and scored one touch down.

Hits 21 of 30
Tarkenton connected on 21 of 30 passes for 252 yards, and six carries for 32 yards.

The Vikings broke the game open in the third quarter after leading 24-21 at the half and then coasted to their third victory of the season, tying them with the Rams for the Western Division cellar. Both are 3-9.

With Hayes running and Tarkenton repeatedly hitting Jerry Reichow with key passes, the Vikings drove in the third period to two touchdowns and had one nullified on a roughing-the-kicker penalty.

On that occasion McElhenny took a punt and returned it 57 yards for a touchdown but the run was nullified when Vikings rushers hit punt er Joe Marconi.

The Rams scored two of the touchdowns on long runs, a 69-yard inside reverse of Ollie Matson in the second period, and a 73-yard jaunt by Dick Bass, to start the second half. Jim Phillips scored the other touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Zeke Bratkowski.

Reichow counted a pair of touchdowns for the Vikings on 51 and nine-yard passes from Tarkenton. While Tom Mason, McElhenny and Gordie Smith scored the other three touchdowns.

Three men were ejected from and "pro." at the miniature game in the fourth period when course

Cards Rally To Hand 'Skins 38-24 Defeat

Etcheverry Sparks Win Before 16,204 Spectators

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals rallied strongly down the stretch behind Sam Etcheverry and John David Crow and whipped Washington 38-24 Sunday, spoiling the Redskins' spirited bid for their first National Football League victory in 22 games.

The Redskins held a 17-7 lead with only five minutes left in the third quarter when Etcheverry shifted an erratic Cardinal offense into high gear, firing two touchdown passes.

Crow—moving at top speed for the first time since he broke his ankle in August—threw one TD pass and sparked the club with his running.

St. Louis got its first home victory this season after losing four straight. A crowd of 16,204, smallest of the season, watched this one. The Cards now stand 5-7 for the season. The Redskins are 0-11-1, with only one tie for their efforts in their last 22 NFL games.

Ralph Guglielmi started at quarterback for St. Louis against his old teammates, but when the Cardinals stalled on their first possession of the second half, Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy switched to Etcheverry, the veteran Canadian star.

Halftime Bulge
Quarterback Norm Snead led the 'Skins to a 17-7 halftime bulge, passing 41 yards to end John Aveni for the first TD and 29 to Bill Anderson to set up the second one, scored on Jim Cunningham's eight-yard plunge.

Guglielmi led the Cards on a 52-yard scoring drive in the first quarter but interceptions stalled the Cards the rest of the half.

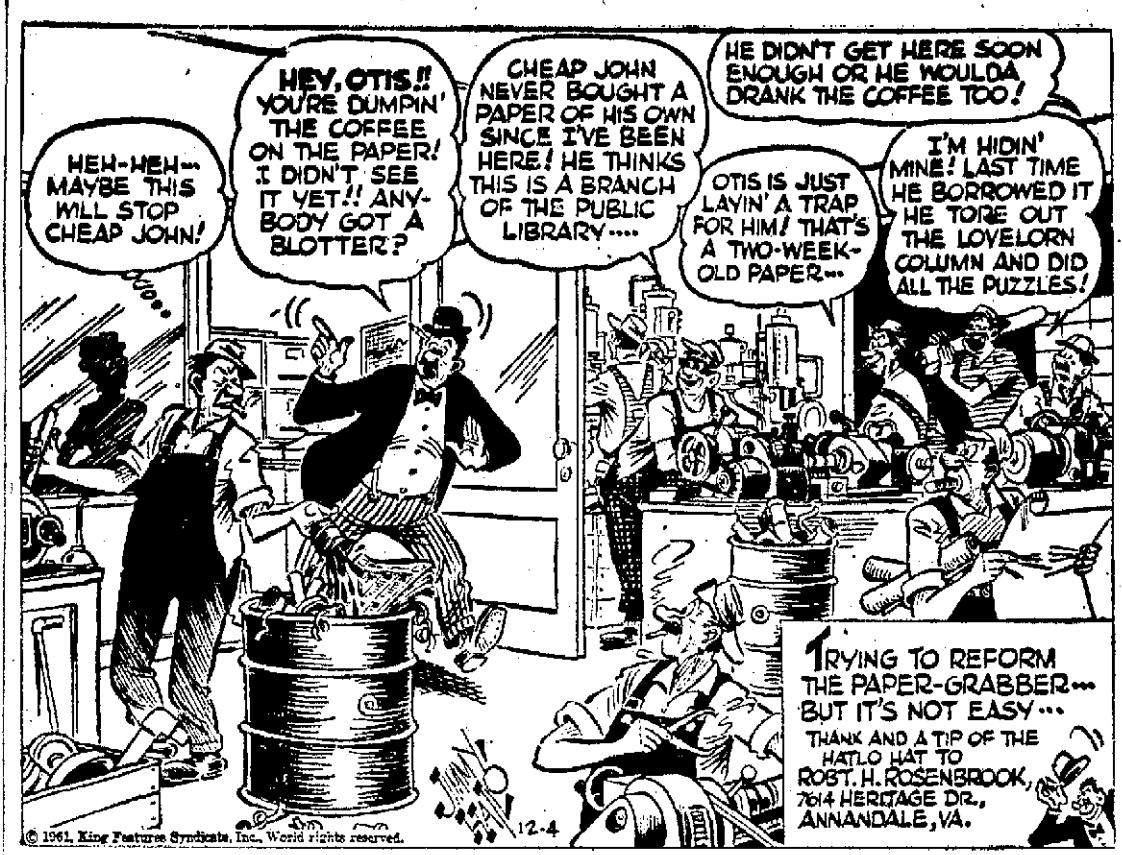

Aveni's 37-yard field goal came with 1:52 left.

Jerry Perry's 38-yard field goal with 4:49 left in the third quarter started the Cardinal comeback. But a fumble which led to the tying TD 43 seconds later proved the big break. Crow pitched a 32-yard scoring pass to Bobby Joe Conrad on first down.

Etcheverry's 45-yard beauty to Prentice Gautt set up the go-ahead Cardinal TD, scored on a three-12-2 at Statesville, Ga., in 1961.

yard pass from Etcheverry to Sonny Randle.

Then a 68-yard scoring pass from Etcheverry to Crow was cut short by a clipping penalty but Etcheverry pitched 43 yards to Conrad for a 31-17 lead. A fumble set up another St. Louis TD, scored by Gautt from the 1.

Snead's 60-yard TD pass to Tom Osborne with 1:44 left in the game completed the scoring.

Fort Lewis Tribulations Salted With Incidents of Army Humor

BY CHARLES HOUSE

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

When something new or different happens in the United States, it is the nature of the people to make jokes about it. And here are some of the stories now going around at Fort Lewis, Washington:

The Red Arrow Division was being inspected by a gentleman from Congress who has, however innocently, brought charges of "cry baby" upon the men of the famed Wisconsin outfit.

The visitor crawled under a jacked-up weapons carrier to peer at its underside when a soldier touched the jack and the heavy vehicle slammed down, almost crushing the fellow.

Pale enough, he crawled out from under and went his way. A sergeant accosted the soldier who had touched the jack:

"You fool!" he said. "That might have been one of our boys under there!"

The same visitor watched with wonder while a hard-voiced sergeant kept his crew of men working at full speed painting the peeling barracks about which you have read. Working furiously, they would just finish painting a barracks when another crew headed by another hard-voiced sergeant would come along and tear it down.

"What's going on here?" the visitor asked the sergeant with the paint detail.

"I don't know, sir," was the reply. "I've got my orders and they've got theirs. But I'll tell you one thing, sir—I'm having a hell of a time trying to keep ahead of them!"

Absolute Truth

A group of investigators, checking out reports that the boys were having a bad time at Fort Lewis, got one of the fellows aside and promised him absolute protection if he would tell the truth about the low morale of the troops.

"Well, sir," said the soldier, "I don't know about the other companies, but ours have very high morale. You see, we've had this beautiful blonde assigned to our barracks. She's with us all the time, day and night, and she's a wonderful comfort."

"I'm amazed," said the investigator. "How does she ever get away with it?"

The soldier looked smug.

"Who's going to snitch?" he asked.

Pretty Lady

One of the team of investigators was a pretty lady, a member of the Congressional committee, and, as such, she was afforded dignity and respect. But when she dropped her glove on a company street, a soldier picked it up, handed it to her and said, "You dropped your glove, toots, sir."

The businessmen of Tacoma, only 13 miles from the post, are doing a great deal of new business with the Wisconsin men. Many of the Red Arrow men are buying cars.

One of them had just agreed to take a used car when the salesman asked:

"How would you like to pay for this, soldier—in a series of piddling, insignificant amounts, or in one vast, staggering sum?"

Strange Assortment

Another Pacific Street merchant was doing a wonderful business in a strange assortment of goods—guitars and hatchets.

To a friend, he explained his success:

"A soldier comes in, explains that he's got some time and has always wanted to learn to play a gift-fiddle. I sell him one. Next day, everybody in his company comes in and buys hatchets."

One first sergeant has a meddlesome company commander who usually lets the sergeant cruise company business on his own, efficiently and with a minimum of fussing.

Now and then, however, the C. O. gets the idea that he should be working, and he bothers his top-kick all day long, making big issues over little things and generally holding up the normal flow of administration.

Reading Material

The sergeant told me he invented a method to stop such botheration.

"Every time he gets an idea like that, I send a kid to town to buy every girl-girly magazine on the stands. I put these in the orderly room's magazine rack, and then I go to the C. O. and I tell him that we've simply got to do something about the reading trash the boys have."

"The C. O. sends over to have them picked up and he takes them into his office and closes the door."

"After that, I don't see the son-of-a-gun for the whole day."

The rumor is that a company clerk in the 1st Battle Group had a custom that everybody talked about but nobody could explain. Each morning he would enter the office, take a key out of his wallet and open a small drawer in his desk.

With Right Hand

He'd look in the drawer for a moment, then close and lock it securely and go about his business for the day.

He earned a week-end pass and while he was gone, some of the boys pried open the little drawer. Nothing was in it except a single slip of paper on which was written:

"You salute with your right hand. Your right hand is on the side toward the window."

Three Movies Underway on Twist Craze

Columbia Film Set For Release During Christmas Holidays

BY BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The film industry has decided the twist is a great shake, and three movies about the dance craze are in the works.

The other film makers will have to go some to beat wily Sam Katzman, who this week had his twisters going at cyclonic speed. His "Twist Around the Clock" may set a new record for getting a film to market.

"I wanted to do this picture a month ago," said Katzman, the man who gave you "Earth vs. the Flying Saucers" and "Uranium Boom." "Columbia said it was just a passing fad."

Minds Change

"Two weeks ago they changed their mind. Go ahead, they said. So I grabbed a plane for New York to line up the talent and phoned back here to get the script going. Within eight days we were in front of the cameras."

"I think we got a strong story, about a record-show guy who isn't doing well and then discovers the twist. We'll have the picture in New York and Chicago by Christmas. Judging by the bookings so far, I think I've got as big a winner as 'Rock Around the Clock.' Made that one for $200,000 and it grossed $5 million."

Katzman, who has the look of an overcoat maker in a bad winter, was watching paternally as his charges staged the first day's scene—the finale. "We've got to do the ending first because we've got some of these people for only three-four days," the producer explained. His shooting schedule is seven days.

Twist Stars

Onstage were a part of the hierarchy of twistdom — Chubby Checkers, the leader himself, Dick, Clay Cole, Vicki Spencer and the Marcells, all a-quiver with the twisting fervor. On the dance floor were two or three dozen dancers, going like crazy.

The dance? The dancers face each other but avoid bodily contact, swiveling hips in Elvis-like style, bending knees and waving arms with abandon. The effect is both hypnotic and exhausting.

Afterwards I sought more information about the dance from Chubby Checkers, an earnest, overweight young man who made a record of "The Twist" a year ago and helped propel the dance to national nottiness.

"Something like the twist comes along only once every 30 years," said Chubby, who is, as seems necessary in pop music nowadays, a Philadelphia. "The reason it's so great is because it's so simple. Anybody can do it. Even you can do it."

UW Ranks 6th In Size of Student Body

CINCINNATI (AP) — The University of Wisconsin ranks sixth in the nation both in the number of full time students and in total enrollment of all types of students.

The figures were supplied Sunday by Dr. Garland C. Parker, University of Cincinnati registrar, in a survey for School and Society Magazine.

Wisconsin has 26,355 full time students. Ahead of Wisconsin, in order, are: University of California, 52,346; State University of New York, 36,857; City University of New York, 33,405; Minnesota, 30,846; and Illinois, 27,670.

Wisconsin has a total enrollment of 32,835, including full time, part-time and extension center students. The University of California again tops the list, with 87,475. Others ahead of Wisconsin are: City University of New York, 81,798; State University of New York, 48,785; New York University, 42,870; Minnesota, 42,180.

luge hall, House Boats, Inc., Electro Marine Corp., and the Lake Theater. At the village hall a chemical dumped onto the concrete floor stained the floor so badly the entire floor will have to be refinished, village officials said.

The sheriff's office this morning also was notified of a break-in sometime since Nov. 16 into a cottage west of Omro owned by Richard Laugisch, Chicago. Minor items were taken and the cottage was ransacked.

Good Books Ready For Christmas Giving

Publishers Offer Special Low Prices For First Editions in Holiday Trade

BY VAN ALLEN BRADLEY

Chicago Daily News Service

The world of book publishing is at its frenzied finest again, the giant color presses spewing out thousands of tons of bright, beautiful, impressive, sometimes useful and sometimes empty gift books for the Christmas trade.

By far the most impressive title is the sumptuous picture-and-text chronicle "The Epic of Man," by the editors of Life Magazine. (Time and Prentice-Hall, $11.50; after Christmas, $13.50).

If I were Santa Claus, this stunningly illustrated account of man's rise from prehistory to today would rate high on my list of gifts. Most of the illustrations are in full color, and hundreds of photographs, as well as paintings by scientific illustrators, were specially commissioned for the book.

Lincoln Barnett, a Life writer of excellent background, perception and skill, headed the writing staff for the project. Another distinguished scientific writer, Dr. Loren Eiseley, did the introduction.

Another picture book of some distinction is the beautifully illustrated "The Continent We Live On." ("Random House, $16.95; after Jan. 1, $20). It contains 235 large photographs, nearly half of them in full color, of North America's natural beauties of field and stream, mountain and meadow, animal and plant life, birds and fishes.

Many of the photographs are superb. They include the work of such masters as Elsworth and Eisenstaedt. The text by Ivan Sanderson is sophisticated, which is a pity.

Jack O'Connor, the gun editor of Outdoor Life, and naturalist George G. Goodwin have teamed up to produce a splendid men's book in "The Big Game Animals of North America" (Outdoor Life and Dutton, $10). Artists Douglas Allen and Alexander Seidel contribute notably to this comprehensive hunter's guide.

A gentler, more literary gift for the animal lover might be Joseph Wood Krutch's excellent anthology "The World of Animals" (Simon and Schuster, $8.95; after Christmas, $10). For the bird lover there could scarcely be a more welcome gift than Oliver L. Austin Jr.'s authoritative "Birds of the World" (Golden Press, first printing, $14.95; later $17.50). It contains 300 full-color paintings by Arthur Singer.

There is a triple-barreled treat in store for lovers of the sea. Three books I would surely consider for the Western Americana fan are Mark H. Brown's colorful account of "The Plainmen of the Yellowstone" (Putnam, $7.50); Nick Eggenhofer's "Wagons, Mules and Men" (Hastings House, $8.50), an accurate picture and text account of frontier transportation by a knowledgeable Western author-artist, and Todd Webb's "Gold Strikes and Ghost Towns" (Doubleday, $4.95), a fascinating photographic tour of historic mining camps and ghost towns in the Far West.

For your music-loving friends, there are two off-beat items: Mitch Miller's "Sing Along with Mitch" (Geis, $5.95), a family-style songbook of favorites with removable song sheets for all the gang, and "The Ballad Book of John Jacob Niles" (Houghton Mifflin, $10), a collection by this folk music authority of 100 outstanding American ballads from English and Scottish sources.

Most cartoon annuals fall flat because there never seems to be enough really funny cartoons in any one year to make a worthwhile collection. All of which leads up to saying that Lawrence Larrier's latest compilation "The Best of Best Cartoons" (Crown, $4.95), a selection of 500 laugh provokers from 20 years of cartoon books, is worth the money. Mr. Larrier, take a bow.

'Victoria' Pale Beside First Play Version

Beautiful Production, But Helen Hayes Role Well Remembered

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — "Victoria Regina," Lawrence Housman's play that became Helen Hayes' greatest acting triumph, has been adapted into a 90-minute television drama. Shown Thursday night on NBC, it was a beautifully produced, meticulously performed series of vignettes about the great British queen from her accession as a young girl to widowed old age.

Perhaps the play suffered from the necessity of chopping it into bits to follow the rigid TV commercial form. Or perhaps—and this is most likely—the vital elements missing were Miss Hayes and Vincent Price, who originally played Prince Albert.

Miss Harris, certainly a most skillful actress, never really became Queen Victoria. She was all actress as a naive young girl, a jealous wife and a sorrowing widow, with skillful make-up aging from 18 to 78 over 90 minutes. She never was convincing as the great imperious queen, not even in the now famous quarrel with her husband.

Nevertheless, it was a rewarding and eye-filling broadcast. James Donald looked handsome and performed competently as Albert. But the TV version of contemporary classic proved again that it is almost impossible to remake satisfactorily a play which a great performer has made his own property. Comparison is inevitable, and inevitably the original stars get the best of it.

"CBS Reports" Thursday night presented the fruits of a long, patient camera and microphone stakeout of a Boston, Mass. horse and dog race betting establishment. Reports that a TV network had filmed a September raid on the place caused a furor in Boston, but commentator Walter Cronkite carefully explained that CBS had concealed cameras focused on the front of the "store" since last spring, took its findings to the Department of Justice and was told that, although the place might be raided, the network would not have advance notice. CBS, however, continued to watch the place and thus was ready when the raid came. The establishment soon reopened for business.

What made the hour-show illuminating was the careful research and filmed interviews through which the program pieced together the 10-year history of the flourishing bookie joint.

Throughout the show the narrator stressed the problems of controlling illegal gambling, the responsibility of the "small better" for the flourishing evil (although crime commission members emphasized that bookie joints cannot operate without protection). Cropper Lloyd's "Ships and Seamen" (World, $12.50), a pictorial Western world survey from the Vikings to today.

It was a good job of enterprising, educational and crusading journalism.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for it individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Lawrence Says

True Liberal
Against Rule
By Coercion

Administration
Has Shown Trend
Of Thought Control

WASHINGTON — Who is a "true liberal" nowadays? The word "liberal" has often been used mistakenly to characterize advocates of progress just as the word "conservative" has often been used wrongly to denote a person allegedly opposed to progress.

Lawrence

But a true conservative, like a true liberal, really wants to conserve the Constitution and the principle that there must be government only by law and not by coercion.

Government by coercion has sometimes been resorted to under the present administration, just as it was at times under the preceding administration. To carry favor with certain blocs of voters, principle is sacrificed to expediency. An executive agency, for instance — whose edicts have never been authorized by any law of Congress — was set up a few years ago, with the vice president as chairman. It undertakes to tell anyone engaged in business that he cannot get or keep a contract with the government no matter how low in price is his bid unless, in effect, he hires a certain proportion of his employees according to race or color or creed. This is called "non-discrimination." In theory, it can be supported as "good politics," but it has no sanction in law.

clubs or organizations whom they should admit as members.

This is a form of thought control which has just been condemned by a prominent educator in the Catholic Church, the Rev. James A. McInerney, professor of philosophy and theology at De Paul University, Chicago. In a speech there before the national interfraternity conference, he said:

Gross Ignorance

"The open, the underhand, the half-hearted attacks on lawfully constituted fraternities and sororities are the result of ignorance and malice. For an institution of higher learning to be guilty of either is unthinkable. To proclaim the attack in the sacred name of patriotism, civil rights, man's humanity or his religion reveals the grossest kind of ignorance."

"To belong to a fraternity or not to belong, to prefer this one to that, have nothing to do with a man's patriotism, his duty to mankind or to accurately defined civil rights."

The Associated Press reports that "a sampling of delegate opinion indicated agreement with Father McInerney."

Not only Professor McInerney, but also the Rev. Dr. Dexter L. Hanley, S. J., professor of law at Georgetown University — another Catholic priest who is a prominent educator — expressed a view which may come as a surprise to those who have assumed that the Catholic church opposes birth control and therefore is in favor of laws that prohibit birth-control measures. Professor Hanley made a speech here last Friday in which he severely criticized an old Connecticut law which makes it a crime to engage in artificial birth control or to spread any information about such measures. Professor Hanley said:

True Liberalism

"Of course I maintain that the practice of birth control is morally wrong, but it is difficult to see the direct social harm of it. And the unenforceability of such a law could lead to disrespect for law in general."

Professor Hanley said also that individuals should seek first to influence society through persuasion and conviction rather than to coerce it by law. He added that he objected to "the present tendency to require legislators to prove their freedom from 'clerical domination' by voting against bills in matters of employment but that which they may object on political grounds." He then declared that a member of Congress who happens to be a Catholic should not have to vote in favor of President Kennedy's bill to aid public schools in order to prove that he is an American.

Expressions like these proclaim a philosophy of voluntarism as contrasted with the widely hailed doctrines of coercionism that are so often accepted nowadays as the measure of so-called "liberalism." If these courageous pronouncements are admitted to the clubs, Private clubs here have not once between true liberals and admitted diplomats from Communist bloc countries. The true liberal, the progress of the true conservative movement in America may really be accelerated. (Copyright, 1961).

Boycotting Clubs

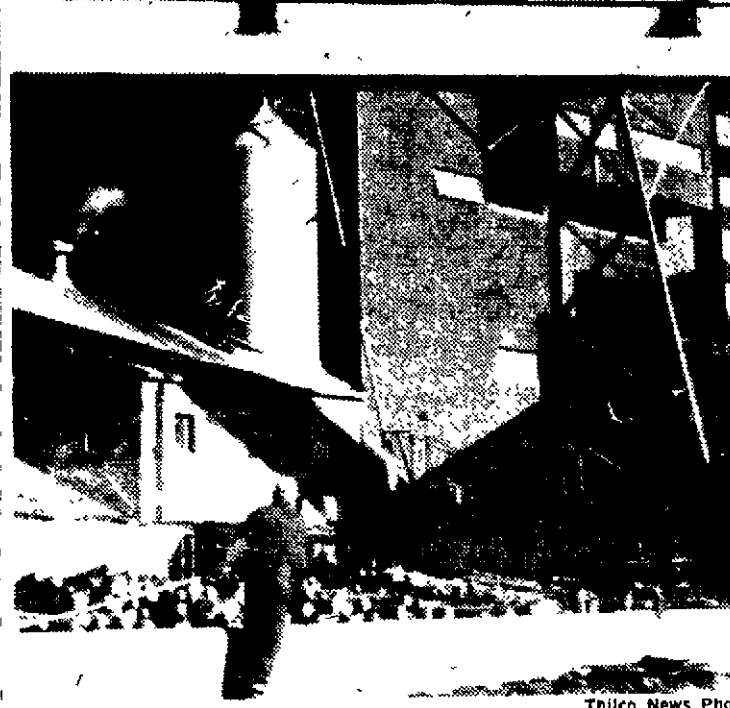

A few months ago government agencies were sending out purchase orders for subscriptions to newspapers and other publications needed by the armed services. It was stipulated that the publishers must swear or affirm that they were not discriminating in matters of employment but that they would deal only with subcontractors who followed the same rule of "non-discrimination." The government did not seem to be considering.

Thought control goes even further unofficially. Members of the administration are boycotting private clubs that do not admit Negroes to New York and Washington not all the members of the diplomatic service of foreign governments are admitted to such meetings. Private clubs here have not once between true liberals and admitted diplomats from Communist bloc countries. The true liberal, the progress of the true conservative movement in America may really be accelerated. (Copyright, 1961).

Fidel Reveals Cuba
Won't Have Voting

Dispute With U. S. Centers
On Lack of Free Elections

BY JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy hardly had the words out of his mouth—about wanting to see free elections in Cuba—when Fidel Castro made it plain there won't be any.

Kennedy, in his interview with Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, said last week the United States would accept a Communist government anywhere if it was approved by the people of a country in free balloting.

The American dispute with Cuba, Kennedy said, is that Castro has not permitted "free and honest election," and until he does his government cannot claim to represent a majority of his people.

One Political Party

Castro, who took over Cuba almost three years ago, and still has not allowed elections, said over the weekend he was leading his country into communism, and would create a single political party with restricted membership.

This means he will pick the membership. The Cubans, like the people in Russia and the satellites, will have to mark yes or no on the candidates chosen for them.

Thus, any prospects of better relations with Cuba become even more remote, particularly since, Kennedy said: "What we find to be objectionable, and a threat to the peace, is when a system is imposed by a small militant group by subversion, infiltration, and all the rest."

Kennedy's statement that this government was willing to recognize another government—in this case a Communist government—chosen by its people in free elections is not a new principle in American history.

"Small Militant Group"

But there is a certain contradiction in the yardstick he uses for finding a system objectionable when it is imposed by a "small militant group."

That's exactly—through a militant group—how Castro took over Cuba. It's also exactly how the Bolsheviks took over Russia. This country recognizes and deals with Russia but not with Cuba.

But communism is closer in Cuba than in Russia. And besides, Cuba is trying to stir up revolutions in this country's closest neighbors in Latin America.

This demonstrates the dilemma of American presidents when, faced by different and shifting situations, they first try to consider what they think are American interests.

Nathan Schachner, in his biography of Thomas Jefferson, who was George Washington's secretary of state and became the third president, said: "For all his philosophical and personal preconceptions, Jefferson followed in his handling of foreign relations a strictly American attitude."

The test to him, as to Washington, was the advantage and benefit of the United States.

The most famous recent forerunner of Kennedy's principle—American willingness to recognize governments freely chosen—was in the Roosevelt-Churchill Atlantic Charter.

The third of their eight principles said they "respect the right of all peoples to choose the form of government under which they will live." That was 20 years ago.

Thirty years ago Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, under President Hoover, seemed to take a different view when he said American recognition did not depend so much upon a country's constitutional legitimacy as its "capacity to fulfill its obligations as a member of the family of nations."

Almost 50 years ago President Wilson, like Kennedy and Roosevelt, emphasized the importance of "just government" when based upon the consent of the governed.

Izvestia Hits at Kennedy's Plan

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government newspaper Izvestia says President Kennedy's suggestion that the autobahn linking Berlin and West Germany be placed under international control seems to be a "big stick" policy. It told him to forget the idea because it is "doomed to failure."

The Kremlin organ chided the President for what it called a "cock and bull" charge that the Soviet Union is out to communize the world.

Commenting on the interview Kennedy gave Izvestia editor Alexei Adzhubei, the paper said the President put forward "quite a few reasonable ideas" — but these were not among them.

Izvestia upheld the "sacred right" of the East German Communist regime to regulate ground, river and air traffic within its territory and declared: "No state which prizes its sovereignty has ever allowed the establishment of international control over its roads."

The newspaper's 4,000-word commentary Sunday charged Kennedy's plan was an attempt to help West German "revenge seekers" get control of East Germany's communications.

Girl Scouts Thank Community by Giving Service Wherever Needed

With Christmas coming, the idea of service and doing things for someone else comes to mind. The Girl Scouts give service all year 'round, but it is at this time that they serve just a bit more, giving many nights after school and weekends to making Christmas happier for someone else.

Girl Scouting began in 1912. Guided by a handbook called "How Girl Scouts Can Serve Their Country," service has been a large part of Girl Scouting ever since. Brownies give service in the home. Intermediates in the community and Senior Scouts wherever they are needed.

Many Reasons

Girl Scouts serve for a number of reasons. The purpose of Scouting is to help girls to be more resourceful, contributing citizens. Service is one of the ways they gain this experience. They realize that they have been helped in many ways and would like to repay. They want to learn about people, their needs and their activities, and service is a prime way of learning this.

Brownies in their promise aim to "serve other people at all times, especially those at home." Their services help in the home and help them to prepare to serve later in the community.

The Intermediate program is based on badges. When a girl has completed a badge, she wears it as a symbol that she is prepared to give service in that area.

Aide Programs

Senior Scouts have a series called Aide Programs. Girls may choose the areas most interesting to them and receive more adult-like training to help them give service. For example, there are library aides, hospital aides, public relations aides and program aides who serve with younger troops.

Scouts are qualified to help. They are young, energetic, concerned with others. They are learning to take increasing responsibility and to make more difficult decisions. The girls have training in some areas that will help them be of service as the need arises. They can potentially have training in many other areas. They like to share what they are doing and like to do new things.

Service Projects

In the past, Scouts have made clothes with fasteners for handicapped children to learn to manipulate. They have filled baskets with food. They have delivered library books, picked up waste paper, made tray favors, entertained in nursing homes, planted flowers, decorated store windows and stamped, sealed and mailed letters for community organizations.

In spite of all these projects and many more, there are not as many projects as there are girls who would like to help. There are 4,800 girls in the Fox River Area Council in 309 troops. The girls are looking for new projects for they would like to do some service every year.

Requirements

A service project must meet certain requirements. It must be safe and within the girls' abilities. It must be non-rewarding, non-partisan and non-commercial and in keeping with the purposes and beliefs of scouting. An adult must supervise the project.

If groups are interested in Scouting services, they should contact Mrs. Mary Murphy, 310 Oak St., Neenah, two weeks before the services are needed. The Girl Scouts are grateful for community support, and they would like to say thank you by giving service.

Girl Scouts of Troop 247, Kaukauna, planted tulip bulbs in the city parks as part of their first class project. Working at the Lawe Street square are Diane Reuter, Kay VanZummeren, JoAnn Lucassen and Judy Wildenberg. All the Kaukauna Scouts participated in this conservation project—another way of giving service to the community. Below, Diane Divin, Riverside, Ill., and Barbara Ayers, Appleton, students at Lawrence College, lead a troop of handicapped girls at Morgan School. Working on Christmas decorations are, from left, Karla Van Munn, Miss Divin, Linda Kalwitz, Lisabeth Linsguns and Patricia Furest. Miss Ayers is in the background.

Angry Mother Answered by Letters From All Religions

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am R. against you, your column and all the sexy junk you peddle under the guise of advice. It was bad enough that you managed to get your trash into several hundred family newspapers but now I see you've written a best seller. This means your ability to damage people is greater than ever.

I bought your book just to see how far you'd go and I was amazed. That chapter entitled Teen-agers and Sex is shocking. You actually tell young people how to neck. What in the world is wrong with you that you would put out such dangerous information?

You are an evil influence on young people and I intend to write to every clergyman I know and ask them to write to you and set you straight. I'm also calling the book stores and asking them to take your book off their shelves. —An American Mother.

Dear Mother: Thank you for your letter. I sincerely hope you write to the clergymen. I've already had reactions from religious leaders of many faiths. This is what they had to say about the book and especially about the teen-age chapter:

Lutheran: (Fargo, N. D.) "Wonderful common sense—exactly what our teen-agers need."—Rev. J. Q.

Catholic: (South Bend, Ind.) "Simply terrific. So wise and witty and in language teen-agers understand."—Father T. H., University of Notre Dame.

Methodist: (Ottawa, Kans.) "I want to give a copy of your book to every couple I marry."—Rev. C. P. K.

Church of Latter Day Saints: (Salt Lake City) "You speak basic truths. Ann Landers. May you be blessed with continued strength and energy to do His work."—J. Episcopal: (Flint, Mich.) "I appreciate the good you are doing. You are perceptive, quick and adroit."—Rev. G. A. M.

Jewish: (New Orleans) "Sensible, sound to the point. This should be required reading for all teen-agers and their parents as well."—Rabbi J. F.

Baptist: (New York) "Your frank, down-to-earth counsel is like a breath of fresh air in a world suffocating from materialism. You are a preacher in your own right."—Rev. R. S. These, Mother, are a handful of letters selected at random. I've also had heartening support from physicians, psychiatrists, school teachers, social workers, parents and teen-agers.

To pretend that teen-agers don't have normal biological urges is unrealistic. It also suggests a poor memory.

Necking among teen-agers is here to stay. Wise parents accept it as a part of growing up—and they keep it at home (and under control.)

Teen-agers don't need any instructions from me on how to neck. The mail tells me they already know how. I do urge them, however, to use their heads and to keep the brakes on because the price for a moment's foolishness is likely to be too high.

It's tougher to be a teen-ager today than when I grew up and it was no picnic then. Kids today have more leisure, more money to spend, more distractions and more choices to make.

They need information, guidance, and above all, understanding. This column gives me a chance to help millions of teen-agers and I intend to hammer away using the same frank and positive language until my type-writer falls apart.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The Danish style rockers typify two favorite treatments of upholstery, one with pillow-like depth in the back and the other with the seat and back molded in one piece. Both have notably high backs. Most new outdoor furniture collections also include rockers. The two sketched can be left out on the lawn, one in rattan and the other in aluminum, both

Since gray is still the most logical color for painted walls, the best way to make the new walls look different from those you had is to use wallpaper in gray or gold pattern on white. It must have a simple, all-over effect because of pattern in the draperies and slipcovers. The dining room rug might be plain gray or a turquoise, gray and white mixture.

Mrs. T. C.: "Is there a correct set of measurements for book shelves to make a bookcase look well proportioned? My husband will build it and does not know how the space should be divided."

Measure the books to be stored and build the shelves to fit them. Locate the tallest books on the low shelves and clear at least two inches at the top and behind each row. This extra space is needed to allow air to circulate around the books and keep them in the best condition, and for ease in handling them. The best proportioned bookcase is the one which fits the books best.

Today's Etiquette

BY LOUISE DAVIS

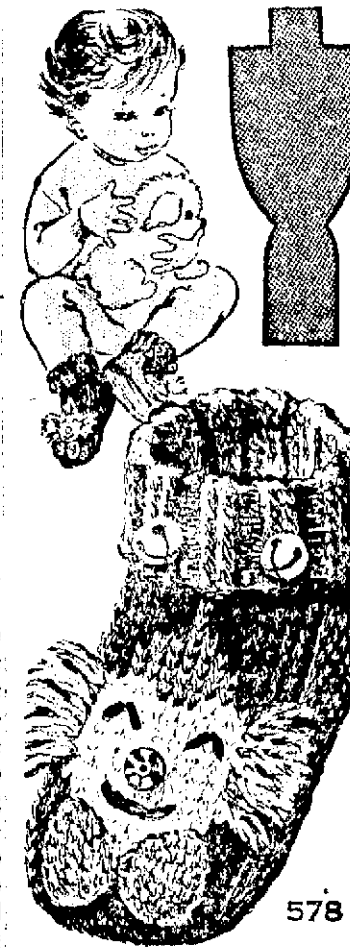

BRIDE HAS RIGHT IDEA A friend of mine who is getting married said she was not going to have the gifts opened and displayed at the reception. She said she wanted to open them herself either before the wedding or after she returns from her trip. Is this proper? I have never seen it done this way.

Louise Davis Answers: Your friend is correct. When gifts are delivered in advance of a wedding, the bride has the real pleasure of opening them, listing each item and the giver, arranging the gifts, then writing her thank you notes immediately. As the days pass with more gifts arriving, she continues the process and gets many a thrill taking a mental inventory of her future possessions. She has other more important obligations at a wedding reception than to open the gifts or pay much attention to them. However, if guests do bring them she has them put aside unopened or she delegates the job of opening to someone else who removes the enclosure cards and carefully records the item along with the names of the donors.

WHAT COLOR FOR SUIT? I am a single man invited to a wedding and reception. Must I wear a dark suit? All I have is a light gray suit. I prefer not to purchase a new suit for the wedding. The last one I attended, every man wore dark.

Louise Davis Answers: Wear your gray suit. Your last experience was a coincidence. Even if you're the only man again in gray, think nothing of it.

Use Care in Buying Gift Of Clothing

Clothes can be wonderful Christmas gifts IF they suit the person and his or her wardrobe. Clothing should suit the person in color, style and fit. If you know the person well, color and style may not be difficult to select, but fit brings problems. Sizes are not always standard. A 32 blouse from one manufacturer may be larger than the same size of another brand. Then too, certain styles fit the figure differently for example flared skirts fit differently than straight ones. To suit the wardrobe is even more difficult as you must know the colors and styles of clothing and accessories the person already owns. This doesn't mean clothing is a bad choice for Christmas giving. It just means you need to know the person well and see him often or else get the information through someone else.

Listen For Hints

For example, you generally know what clothing a person you live with could use. If you're buying for a friend in another city, perhaps you can write to a member of the family or close friend to get size and gift preference information. To solve these problems some friends and relatives exchange

Keep Municipal Borrowing Below Limits, Warns Official

MENASHA — "Borrowing program is a very difficult portion should be related to the stability of the comprehensive plan" of the municipality and should "The city's finance department always be prudent," Clarence and budget supervisor estimate. Beernink, program coordinator for capital improvements of the City of Milwaukee, told a class in urban government planning at the U. W. Fox Valley Center Saturday.

"Some reserve borrowing power should always be present to be used in case of emergency or natural catastrophe."

Speaking on "Long-range Financial Planning," Beernink stressed the importance of developing a comprehensive community development program, covering a period of 20 to 25 years.

Such a comprehensive permanent improvements program must be three-pronged, covering private or large municipal debt. This type and public development, as well of financing encourages the city as long-range financial planning, he said.

Priorities Listed

Private building projects will be regulated by means of zoning and building codes. Facilities to be financed out of public funds must be listed then organized into priorities of need, before an adequate program can be drawn up. A typical permanent improvement program takes into consideration needed public services; capital improvements; and how the desired revenue can be raised.

Public services include fire, police and health and welfare work, all of which demand expanded facilities as the population of the municipality increases. Capital improvements cover those projects not immediately related to municipal services.

In Milwaukee, priorities are drawn up by the capital improvement committee, of which Beernink serves as secretary. The committee then presents its recommendations to the board of estimates, which in turn presents the improvements program to the City Council, which generally accepts the decisions of the Board of estimates and then recommends a source of financing.

Not only dollars and cents, but of the city's taxable property, while serving three years in the also political considerations sometimes enter into the committee's deliberations, Beernink said.

"It's purely a background judgment," he said.

Explain Budgeting

He added, however, that the will of the people of the community ultimately prevails, regardless of standards.

The City of Milwaukee's six-year development program "is refined coordination between departments in such a way that we develop and a one-year budget which becomes part of the total budget for the year," he said.

"The capital improvements program should be related to the stability of the comprehensive plan" of the municipality and should "The city's finance department always be prudent," Clarence and budget supervisor estimate. Beernink, program coordinator for capital improvements of the City of Milwaukee, told a class in urban government planning at the U. W. Fox Valley Center Saturday.

Kashmir Film To be Shown At Neenah

Lee Stutman Will Present Program at Vocational School

NEENAH — "Kashmir, Paradise of the East," is the subject of film producer Len Stutman's program at Neenah High School Auditorium at 8 p.m. Wednesday. This program, sponsored by the Neenah Vocational and Adult School, is planned for adults and the admission is free.

Stutman recently returned from a three-year assignment in India where he served as film adviser to the Ministry of Food and Agriculture, Government of India.

'Heaven on Earth'

Kashmir was produced during his stay and Stutman says of it, "If ever there be heaven on earth, it is here, it is here, it is here." Included in the film is a pilgrimage to famed Amarnath Cave, tours of mosques, Hindu temples, the Moghul Gardens of Shalimar. The producer lives close to the people and intimately portrays peasant life, rice harvesting, floating vegetable gardens, mountain shepherds, river festivals and summer and winter sports.

His story of silk and the Kashmiri crafts and skills gives a realness to this valley of verdant beauty, cradled high in the Himalayas, half hidden from the outside world.

Chicago-born Len Stutman became interested in photography while serving three years in the Naval Air Corps, Pacific Theater. He started travelling during a summer vacation from Michigan State University as a biologist with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. Some of his educational expenses were met through the film he made of local scenes and wild life in Alaska and lecturing upon his return.

Since leaving college, Stutman has been chief cameraman with the Maytag African Expedition, has produced commercial and educational films for Firestone, Corby Dr. T. F. Thompson, associate professor of political science, vision news.

'Red Wall Destroys Last Substantial Link'

LONDON (AP) — Britain said today the Communist-built wall in Berlin "destroyed the last substantial link uniting the people in the two parts of Germany" and violated four-power agreements concerning the city's future.

This statement was contained in a 250,000-word volume published by the British government in advance of next week's meeting in Paris of Western foreign ministers.

Trial Ordered in Topsy Driving Case

NEENAH — A drunken driving charge was denied Saturday by Charles Gustafson, 29, 430 E. College Ave., Appleton, when he was arraigned before Police Justice E. P. Arpin. Trial was set for 1:30 p.m. Dec. 15.

Moral Implications of Driving to be Discussed

MENASHA — The fourth film in the series "4 D's for a St. Mary Student"—Driving—will be considered at the Home-School Association meeting, St. Mary's auditorium at 7:45 p.m. Tuesday.

"Our purpose is to make young people who drive cars realize their grave responsibility before God for the lives of others," explained the Rev. Donald Stoegebauer, school administrator. "Since the car has the power of death in its mechanism, only adults should be allowed to handle one, is our main thought."

How parents can determine when their children are ready to assume this adult responsibility and what their own responsibility embraces will be two of the major points for discussion at the meeting.

Conclusions

Some of the conclusions to be drawn on this important subject are: 1. A car is a great good when used properly and parents are morally responsible for giving the basic training for obeying traffic laws and being courteous. 2. The use of the family car is not a right but a privilege and parents should revoke that privilege for last and reckless driving, overlooking the car, or unapproved uses. 3. With privilege there is a price; therefore, student drivers should help to keep a car clean, in good working condition and take on some family errands. 4. No high school boy or girl should own a car and school records show that those who do invariably have poor marks.

blended sound, usually quite pointed and clear of line. Except for the flying techniques of some of Handel's quickest choruses, they sang with good definition. This was a little less sound than one would expect from 225 voices, but clarity was their director's aim, and it was fitted together with good sensitivity for the complexities of polyphonic line. They steadily improved throughout the evening, from a slightly conservative start to vigorous readings of "For Unto Us A Child Is Born." "His Yoke is Easy," and perhaps their boldest in the closing "Worthy is the Lamb," and the "Amen" Chorus. Tenors and sopranos, especially, gave us rich tones.

Koopman Standout
The solo accomplishments were sound and enjoyable. If an individual standout were to be named, Lawrence's own faculty bass-baritone, John Koopman, would be worthy. He sang with purposeful style; his readings had good character and were sensitive to the variety of dramatic roles. His voice, though not really big, was under good control, and had richness and warmth.

Soprano Margaret Lukoszewski has a strong, direct quality, and is best suited to oratorio among the four solo singers. She reached the very demanding top range for soprano with general ease, and seemed in command constantly.

Patricia Sage, a newcomer contralto, came closest to real excellence in the air. "He was Despoised."

Tenor soloist Thomas Fitzpatrick projects well enough and provides good listening in the middle of his range.

Fine Ensemble
To this was added the quite amazing work of the little instrumental ensemble — organ, harpsichord, violoncello, and sometimes, contra-bass. Daniel Smith, Miriam Duncan, and Frances Roy Francar and Gordon Bubolz are directors of the Wolf River Improvement Association from Outagamie County and R. E. Garrow and Douglas Hanson are directors from the New London area.

Other incidental instrumentalists helped, and to one, especially, flutist Enid Scripka, goes praise for some really worthwhile tone and interpretive sensitivity.

Valley Iron Official Appointed to Vacancy On Personnel Unit

Mayor Clarence Mitchell has appointed Harold B. Barker, 1315 E. Frances St., to fill out Appleton's new personnel committee.

Barker is personnel director at Valley Iron Works. Before he went to Valley Iron in 1953, he was personnel manager for Eagle Manufacturing Co. He is a charter member and a past president of the Appleton Personnel Association.

Mitchell's appointment filled the last vacancy on the committee. Appointments made last week are Ald. R. P. Groh, street and sanitation committee; Ald. Mrs. Dorothy Stillings, welfare and ordinance committee; Ald. Edward Krueger, finance committee, and Ald. Douglas Ogilvie, public safety committee.

New committee members will be approved at the council meeting Wednesday.

Money Missing From Fraternity House

About $66 was stolen from the Beta Theta Pi fraternity house, 712 E. John St., during the weekend, Appleton police said today.

Al Kline, a resident of the house, told police the money was on the second floor and apparently was taken by someone who was familiar with the building.

neers will outline its plans for conducting the $30,000 survey, which will include public hearings in January to receive suggestions from local government and citizen representatives in the Wolf River basin area. Advance information indicates that the governor is planning a public hearing later in December as a follow-through on the resolutions adopted by four county boards favoring a Wolf River Regional Planning Commission.

More detailed announcements on such proposed hearing will be made by representatives of the State Department of Resource Development, Bubolz said.

James Bamberg, Charles Seaborn Jr., the Rev. W. E. Lange, Roy Francar and Gordon Bubolz are directors of the Wolf River Improvement Association from Outagamie County and R. E. Garrow and Douglas Hanson are directors from the New London area.

Peterson had stopped on Wisconsin Avenue for the intersection at Division Street when his car was hit.

Boy's Eye Burned When Gunpowder Ignites in Face

A Kaukauna youth received a severely burned right eye Sunday morning when powder from several shotgun shells ignited in his face.

Ervin Gartman, 14, son of Mr.

Gartman, said the shells were left in a truck parked at the Kaukauna boat club Saturday night. The blank shells are used for boat races.

Frenz said Ervin earlier Sunday had burned his hand when he and two others wrapped one of the shells in newspaper and set it on fire in a glass jar.

Later he and other youths cut several of the shells apart and put the powder in a milk carton. Frenz said Ervin was going to light the carton when the match fell into the powder and ignited.

Some Units Happy

Guardsmen and Reservists' Gripe Is Not Enough Activity in Service

BY RALEIGH ALLSBROOK

NEW YORK (AP)—Complaints of poor morale and supply shortages are arising at some of the camps where National Guard and reserve units have been called back into service.

As during World War II and the Korean War, the military is being accused of using "hurry up and wait" tactics—hurrying men into uniform and then not being prepared for them.

Rickety Barracks

A teacher writes that much of his time is spent picking up cigarette butts and leaves.

Rickety barracks stripped partially of equipment are reported being used in another camp. Still another is said to have issued obsolete and non-operation weapons.

Has the military actually let down the men it called back to the colors or are the complaints, as draft director Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey commented, simply the traditional griping of soldiers?

"If any Army unit ever did anything without griping they'd either be lying or mutes," Hershey said.

Pentagon sources say that out of 119,000 Army reservists and Guardsmen called back, less than 1 per cent have put in complaints.

This estimate, the sources said, was based on letters and other communications received at all Army levels.

Maj. Gen. William H. Harrison, president of the National Guard Association, said "the griping of a few individuals" is casting a shadow upon the patriotism and spirited response of the Guard men and reservists.

"These complaints, in some instances," he said, "are from men who have already served on extended active duty and resent a second callup when so many of their friends and neighbors have performed no military service."

He said there should be changes in the law and policy.

President Comments

The matter reached a climax last week when President Kennedy devoted a part of his news conference to answering critics.

The President, whose own record includes heroic wartime service in the Navy, took particular note of complaints about Ft. Lewis, Wash.

The President said he called reserve units up this summer to strengthen the armed forces because we "want to have a choice between humiliation and holocaust."

Maj. Gen. Edward H. McDaniel, Army inspector general, is investigating conditions at Ft. Lewis, where Rep. Alvin O'Konski, R-Wis., has made accusations of "criminal negligence."

The Wisconsin representative started a controversy over whether the Army made adequate preparations there to take care of his state's 32nd Infantry Division.

He called it a "lost division" with obsolete and poorly operating weapons and short supplies.

This brought a denial by the Army and a charge from the division commander, Maj. Gen. H. A. Smith, that O'Konski had damaged the unit's morale and made the troops appear a "bunch of crybabies."

Contradiction

Most of O'Konski's charges also were contradicted indirectly by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who followed him on an inspection of the camp.

Proxmire reported he found many things wrong, but that the Army was making a sincere effort to straighten them out.

The major trouble, he said, was that the Army hadn't told the men exactly why they were called up, how long they must serve and why they were sent to Ft. Lewis.

Instead of Camp McCoy in Wisconsin.

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., also was a party to the dispute. He accused O'Konski of doing a "great disservice" to the division by his "extravagant charges."

Other complaints have developed at Ft. Polk, La., where National Guardsmen from a number of Southern and Western states have been training.

Write Congressman

A group of nearly 100 enlisted men from the 49th Armored Division there wrote a letter to Rep. Joe Kilgore, D-Tex., complaining about conditions.

They also protested that while they had prior service "back at home there are those who have never been called to duty."

Earlier, reporter Ben House of the Columbus (Ga.) Ledger visited the camp and found conditions "deplorable."

Guardsmen were living in dusty, rickety barracks, long abandoned and partially stripped of such necessary equipment as stoves, lavatories and light switches, he wrote.

Another reporter, Buddy Threault of the Lake Charles (La.) American.

Green Bay Group to Discuss Transportation

Chapter 113 of Delta Nu Alpha Transportation Fraternity in Green Bay will have three five-minute discussions of issues in transportation at its next meeting Dec. 14 at Olson's Cafeteria.

One topic will be Senate Bill 1-1297 and rate making policy as it affects competitive forms of transportation. The second will be the advantages and disadvantages of a single separate corporation to handle small shipments of 2,000 pounds or less.

Also to be discussed is whether regulation has become too complicated to permit compliance with directives of national transportation policy, and if so, in what respects regulations shall be amended.

Horicon Man to Speak On Conflict in Palestine

Walter Bussewitz, Horicon, will discuss recent conflicts in Palestine and show color slides he took on two visits to Jerusalem at 8 p. m. Thursday at St. James Methodist Church. The talk, sponsored by the men's club, is open to all members of the church.

Bussewitz was formerly superintendent of schools in Horicon. Since his retirement he has traveled around the world twice.

ican-Press, found conditions somewhat different, however.

He said they "seem no better—nor worse—than the regular Army barracks used by GIs in other times."

He said the men there may be serving in a cold and windy camp, but they "are rendering the same kind of service to our country as an airplane standing at 15-minute alert at a SAC base in Omaha is rendering."

"We call them in to prevent a war, not to fight a war."

It is natural for the men to be unhappy, the President said. "It is a heavy sacrifice. They go to camps which have perhaps been newly opened or where the equipment may not be immediately available."

But he asked them to recognize that they are contributing to the security of their families and he held out hope they may be sent home short of their required 12 months of service.

An information officer at the camp declared that since a part of it had been closed since 1954, some of the buildings naturally "were going to deteriorate."

But he said that conditions were improving rapidly and that many of the shortages complained of already have been filled.

Congressional complaints also arose over Air National Guard units called up and sent overseas.

Rep. George Huddleston, D-Ala., said he had received reports that some members of the 117th Reconnaissance Wing, now based in Paris, were just sitting around with nothing to do.

Pentagon officials blamed it on air traffic control problems and said discussions were under way with French authorities to clear up the situation.

Air Units Complain

Rep. R. Walter Riehlman, R-N.Y., also complained about conditions in Phalsbourg, France, where two National Guard air units were sent.

On a visit, he said, he found they had legitimate complaints about food, living conditions and mail service.

Reporter Jack Foisie of the San Francisco Chronicle visited Ft. Ord in California and said troops were spending their time waiting for equipment, listening to old lectures, seeing old training films and "manicuring" their barracks areas.

One soldier said that all he had done was paint numbers on walls and posts.

Despite the criticism of some camps, reports from other military installations indicated few complaints.

In Kansas, for example, Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., said facilities were excellent.

At Ft. Stewart in Georgia, about 1,400 members of National Guard and reserve units have been processed and are being trained. Conditions were reported adequate.

Two Involved In Accidents

Men Fined After Pleading Guilty To Tippy Driving

Two drivers were fined and had licenses revoked for driving while intoxicated.

Fined Saturday was Clarence R. Pratt, 46, route 1, Neenah, who pleaded guilty and was fined $100 by Police Justice E. P. Arpin. Pratt's car was involved in an accident with a parked car on S. Commercial Street at 11:15 p.m. Friday.

Willis A. Maschinsky, 37, route 2, Black Creek, pleaded guilty today and was fined $150 by Municipal Judge Gustave Keller.

Maschinsky was arrested at 1:50 a.m. Saturday by county police after he drove his car into a water-filled ditch on State 54 in the Town of Bovina. County Patrolman William Janssen said the Maschinsky car traveled 100 feet on the west shoulder, cut across the road and went into the ditch. Maschinsky was not injured.

University Student Costs on Increase

Women Spend More Money Than Men, According to Recent Study

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
MADISON — The University of Wisconsin has verified in a formal study report what thousands of Wisconsin parents have known. It is costing substantially more to keep Betty and John in college today, even when the college is the University of Wisconsin where most of the tuition bill is picked up by the state treasury.

Average cost of university attendance for Wisconsin resident students at Madison for the last academic year, the University discovered in a detailed poll of the student body, rose to $1,485. Men spent slightly less, women slightly more.

Ten years ago, according to another study, the average cost for room and clothing and less for recreation and entertainment at a coeducational institution, the university study showed.

Non-resident men and women spend more than Wisconsin residents, apparently reflecting the higher economic status of their families, but also occasioned in part by the higher fee charges for non-residents.

Average costs for non-resident men last year was $2,142, and for non-resident women $2,409.

Of their total income, resident men get about 32 per cent, resident women 57 per cent, non-resident men 58 per cent and non-resident women 80 per cent from family contributions.

More than two thirds of all students report earnings from summer employment and nearly a fifth of resident students have had loans from the state, from relatives or other sources.

In educational attainment, parents of non-resident students showed a higher ratio of college training than the parents of residents, and a higher percentage of mothers than fathers of university undergraduates has college training.

Unconscious Picking Could Cause Unhealed Skin Sores

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D., whether self-scratching appears to "Dear Dr. Molner: What could be the major cause of cause sores and raw spots on top of the ears, and other scratches and open wounds to stay unhealed for weeks and sometimes months? My 12-year-old daughter has this trouble. I haven't taken her to a doctor because they go away in time. My husband thinks she keeps picking the areas. She says she doesn't."

Mrs. L. W.

This is unusual in a 12-year-old child, and I would strongly suspect that your husband is right. Some nervous individuals pick and dig at the skin, perhaps without even realizing it. Such slow healing can, of course, be due to the repeated irritation and/or a mild infection of the scratch. Your doctor should be able to tell readily examination should reveal some underlying cause or causes of this overwhelming sleepiness.

Wearers Satisfied

"Dear Dr. Molner: What do you think of contact lenses?—O.G."

I have no quarrel with properly fitted contact lenses if, for one reason or another, a person prefers that type. A recent report in the Archives of Ophthalmology, by Dr. John R. Cassidy, shows that 78 per cent of wearers of contact lenses are satisfied with them. In short—a good score, but one person in five may have difficulty with them. Some people can't adjust to contact lenses.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My wife has been in the hospital with a serious heart ailment diagnosed as a myocardial infarction. She was given a radioactive iodine treatment, hoping that this would both reduce the severity and lessen the number of painful attacks (She has had severe back aches and also her eyes become puffy and swollen). Has the treatment anything to do with the back aches and puffiness around the eyes?—R.M."

Radioactive iodine is given for certain types of heart cases. In brief, the treatment is used to suppress the activity of the thyroid gland, to ease pressure on

Spectators Take Expensive Smoke

CHICAGO (AP) — A crowd of 3,500 spectators—inhalng deeply—watched more than $250,000 in tobacco products go up in smoke Sunday night as fire destroyed the Galt Tobacco House, Inc.

The fire, of undetermined origin, burned large supplies of tobacco products stocked in the warehouse for Christmas sales.

the heart. Yet it is impossible to calculate the exact, precise amount of change that will result within reasonable limits, yes! But exactly? No.

It is quite possible that the back aches and puffiness of the eyes are due to a lack of thyroid. Some thyroid extract, given by mouth in small amounts, may afford considerable relief.

NOTE TO MRS. G. F. I even had one letter from a mother who had two sons with Legge-Perthes disease. Both, by the way, recovered fully, which is usually the case. It took one boy four years, the other five. Some recover sooner.

Peabody Manor Planned for Needs

Residents to Move Into $700,000

Retirement Home on Thursday

Peabody Manor has been carefully planned around the needs and interests of its residents. Architect Frank C. Shattuck pointed out, "It is not a hospital or a place for invalids, but a place where elderly people can live a perfectly normal life and have normal activities," he said.

The $700,000 retirement home at 720 W. Fifth St. held open house from 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday. The first residents will move in Thursday.

The home has 27 single resident rooms, two suites connected by a lavatory, and a 20-bed nursing section.

The single rooms are 11 by 17, including closet space and a private lavatory. The furnished rooms are decorated in three styles—early American, Danish modern and provincial. They ining area has tables for four, all with armchairs.

The planning involved in designing the kitchen is typical of that which went into the whole building. Before ground was broken, architects had the VNA committee work out typical menus for several days, in order to see what type of kitchen facilities would be needed. There is a sound lock between the kitchen and dining area.

The Visiting Nurse Association headquarters are at the east end of the one-story wing. They include a lobby, a room for records and files, the head nurse's office, the nurses' office, a kit room, storage space, and a board room.

There is a large recreation room, 41 by 56, in the basement, for games, hobbies and general activities. There is also a laundry room in the basement where residents can do their personal laundry if they wish. Linens and room cleaning service are provided for them.

Own Lounge
Each floor has its own lounge. Each has an attached kitchenette which opens both into the lounge and into the corridor, so that residents can get snacks without disturbing those in the lounge if they wish.

The infirmary is on the third floor, out of the way of disturbances from people coming and going. It is not set up as a complete hospital, but can provide medical and convalescent services. The infirmary has 14 rooms, half of them singles. It also has an examining room, a dispensing room with a small kitchen unit, a nurse's station, a sterilizing room and a lounge.

Call System
There is a call system to the nurse's station from rooms in the nursing section. In addition, every resident's room is on a call system connected to the office, which is connected to the nurse's station at night.

Possible future expansion was considered in the plans for Peabody Manor. The two resident sections could be extended in a wing across the back. The present main lounge and dining area would be used only as a lounge, and a new dining room would be added. The kitchen is planned so that it would not have to be rearranged in the event that expansion plans called for a new dining room.

Delivery Entrance
The building has two elevators. One is a service elevator to bring supplies to the kitchen and to carry food up to the infirmary. The other elevator is near the end of the corridors in the resident wing.

The delivery entrance was placed near the street in the front of the building, so that driveways for delivery would not have to cut into the lawn area.

The home was designed by Shattuck, Siewert and Associates, Neshannock. The contractors were Dick Cudenhoven Construction, Kaukauna, general construction; R. Selig and Sons, Appleton, plumbing; August Winter and Sons, Appleton, heating and ventilating; Uptown Electric, Waupaca, electrical; and Northwestern Elevator, Milwaukee, elevator.

Groundbreaking ceremonies for the building were held in July, 1960.

Wife of Unemployed Mineworker Gives Birth to Triplets

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—The 37-year-old wife of an unemployed mineworker has given birth to triplets, making a total of 10 children in the family.

A girl was born to Mrs. Thomas Bonk at 1:16 p. m. Sunday in Wilkes-Barre General Hospital. She weighed 3 pounds, 8 ounces. A boy was delivered 10 minutes later and then a second boy. The first boy weighed four pounds, the second 3 pounds 9 ounces.

The Bonks now have 6 boys and 4 girls. The other children range in age from 3 to 19.

Trapped Man Gets Assist From Fog

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—Fog led to the rescue of a Calvert City farmer from a painful trap.

The Ohio River tugboat Robin had slowed because of fog when an examining room, a dispensing room with a small kitchen unit, a nurse's station, a sterilizing room and a lounge.

The scream had come from shore, where they found Fred MacFarland, 33, had his hand caught in a corn picker.

MacFarland had been trapped in a corn field for 12 hours. The crewmen freed him, administered first aid and then radioed for an ambulance from Paducah.

MacFarland suffered a broken finger and torn hand but was released after treatment at a hospital.

30 Plaintiffs Get $500,000 Settlement

MERRILL (AP)—An out of court settlement has been announced for damage suits of more than one million dollars growing out of an explosion that took 10 lives here in July of last year.

Leonard Schmitt, attorney for most of the 30 plaintiffs, said the suits were settled for a total of about $500,000. He said the three end of the corridors in the resident wing.
